Charles E. GREENE (#1)

Among the leading citizens of Yolo county is Charles E. Greene, the owner of El Nido ranch, comprising two hundred acres eight miles southwest of Woodland, which ranks among the finest and most highly developed ranches in that section. Representing the type of man well fitted for the labor of building up a community, Mr. Greene's executive ability and tenacity of purpose, united with unquestioned honor and good judgment have enables him to control with ease the many problems which are inevitable in his work.

Mr. Greene was born July 9, 1865, in the old Greene home adjoining the present place, where his father, whose life appears elsewhere in this volume, located in 1852. Upon completion of his public school education the son entered the California Military Academy, at Oakland, where he continued his studies for three years and later took a course in the Atkinson Business College at Sacramento, where he graduated in 1885. He then assisted his father in the management of their ranch consisting of twelve hundred and eighty acres devoted to grain raising. In 1902, in connection with the home place, he rented the Hext place, comprising nine hundred and sixty acres adjoining the old home, and after giving up the Hext ranch he rented the Marders grain ranch of nine hundred acres located near Esparto. After four years he relinquished his control of this property in order to take charge of the two hundred acre tract allotted to him upon the division of his father's estate, since which period he has devoted his efforts to the improvement of his inheritance. In addition to raising barley, which runs fifteen to twenty-five sacks per acre, he conducts an almond orchard of fourteen acres which produces from one-half to three quarters of a ton per acre annually. His comfortable bungalow erected in 1906 is surrounded by trees, vines and shrubbery, artistically arranged, and his entire ranch is suggestive of the progressive thought and untiring industry of its owner.

July 30, 1902, Mr. Greene was married at Sacramento to Miss Cornelia Purrington, whose birth occurred in Sutter county and whose parents, Henry and Anna (Parker) Purrington, were natives of Maine and California respectively. Two daughters, Lucile and Dorothy, have been born to Mr. and Mrs. Greene. Since 1896 Mr. Greene has been an active member of Athens Lodge No. 228, F. & A. M., at Davis, being affiliated also with Woodland Chapter No. 46, R. A. M., and Woodland Commandery No. 21, and by virtue of his wife's identification with Ionia Chapter No. 199, O. E. S., at Davis, is likewise enabled to enjoy the privileges of that order. In all enterprises pertaining to the public good, Mr. Greene is prompt to lend his hearty support, and is conceded to be one of the most able citizens of the section in which he is so well and favorably known.

Charles E. Greene, deceased, formerly a prominent farmer of Yolo County, was born in Shelburne, Vermont, May 24, 1825, his parents being Rufus and Betsey (Weed) Greene. His ancestry is traceable to the De Gras family of France, and later to the family in Rhode Island named Greene, with whom the famous Revolutionary General Nathaniel Greene was connected. When the subject of this sketch was twelve years of age his parents removed to Hopkinton, New York, resided there seven years, where Charles attended the Hopkinton Academy, and then removed to Southport (now Kenosha), Wisconsin. There Mr. Greene taught school awhile and then clerked in the drug store of this brother, Pliny P., a practicing physician. March 13, 1849, he started for California with an ox team, and arrived in Sacramento, October 13, after a comparatively pleasant trip.

Upon his arrival in California, Mr. Greene engaged in mining for a time, with success; then he was in mercantile business, in partnership with Mr. Hutchinson, in Sacramento, on J street, where the old Fountain House now stands, until 1852; and while there the firm was obliged to take some land in Yolo County in security for a debt, and Mr. Greene took charge of it. It was twelve miles from Woodland and known as the "Big Ranch." The grant title was proven fraudulent, after expensive litigation in the courts. This, with other things, caused Mr. Greene to lose all that he had saved. He lived there, however, until 1860, when he moved upon the place where his widow now resides. After locating there he had many discouraging failures, but fortune at length crowned his efforts, and at the time of his death, in July, 1886, he had one of the most productive farms in Yolo County. It is situated five miles north and east of Davisville, and contains 1,280 acres, all enclosed. It is the best of wheat land; and here the widow and two of the children reside, continuing in agricultural pursuits.

Mr. Greene was a settled Republican and a public-spirited and exemplary citizen. In July, 1855, he married Miss Bertha L. Bennett, of Sacramento. She was a native of Muscatine, Iowa, and a daughter of Milo and Mary J. (Gibson) Bennett, the father a native of Vermont and the mother of New Hampshire. Mr. Bennett crossed the plains with his family to Sacramento in 1851, principally for the sake of his health; but he died the next year. Mrs. Greene has had three children: the eldest, Kate A., who is now Mr. B. B. Tuttle, of Portland, Oregon; Ella A. and Charles E., Jr.

Mrs. Greene relates the following encounter with Indians while crossing the plains in 1851:
"When we left Council Bluffs, our company numbered about sixty persons, all expecting to go to Oregon, but before reaching the junction of the California and Oregon roads, my father with some others decided to go to California. Our division consisted of ten men, two women and seven children, separating from the main company, taking our way toward California. Occasionally we were visited by Indians in small numbers, and while we treated them kindly always refused their request for ammunition, which they seemed anxious to have. A few days after one of these visits we had some cattle shot, but as they were not greatly injured we did not leave them. This may have angered the Indians, for we began to notice signal fires in all directions. Arriving at the Humboldt River, where water and grass was plentiful, we concluded to rest for a few days, but on a second consideration we thought it prudent to try and overtake a company who were only two days in advance of us. The signal fires increased in numbers, making us feel that danger threatened.
"At the close of the second day we reached a place called Stony Point, and as usual one of our number was sent forward to choose our camping grounds; my sister and myself accompanying him to the place selected, we went down to the river to get a drink and wash our faces. The gentleman with us stooped down to get some water and was in the act of putting it to his lips when he discovered an Indian on the opposite bank just raising his gun. Simultaneously a report sounded from both sides, and our escort called to us to run as the Indians were upon us. This we die crying 'Indians!' 'Indians!' at every step. Our cry was heard just as the wagons were forming the camp. Immediately our captain ordered a retreat from the willows, and we barely reached a place where the Indians could not fire on us from ambush, when we were surrounded by between seventy-five and 100 yelling, dancing Indians. The wounded man had managed to reach the camp in a short time; two others were disabled, thus reducing our defenders to seven men. We made breastworks of bed and pillows, thus affording a slight protection from which our men could return the fire of the enemy.
"The sun went down on a seemingly doomed company, surrounded by overwhelming numbers. Our death, or worse, our capture, seemed inevitable. Within our camp there was a death-like stillness, each one realizing that the next moment might be our last on earth. The firing from both sides continued until midnight, when we could see that some sort of a council was being held. We were not left long in suspense as to their intentions, for suddenly the sky grew red and we were inclosed <sic> in a wall of fire. The grass was about eighteen inches high and very dry, and as we saw the flames advancing toward us we felt that there was no longer any hope. Surely God was our defense; for when the fire had reached within twenty yards of the camp it went out. They did not dare relight it, as any attempt to do so would have brought them within range of our guns; so they continued shooting at us until about eight o'clock the next morning. Then, seemingly discouraged, they disappeared. After a consultation among our company it was deemed advisable to proceed, but as the traveled road was for the greater part of the way among the willows we decided to abandon that, taking our way across the hills with only the sun for our guide. Each man carried his gun in one hand, a whip in the other, the women and children always carrying weapons. The wisdom of our course was soon manifest, for the Indians once more swarmed from their hiding places and commenced firing upon us.
"For three days and nights we were without water, excepting such as we found in the stagnant pools, and this so foul that we could only drink it with vinegar or make it into coffee. The stock was watered by women and children passing buckets from hand to hand, while every man with gun in hand stood ready to fire in case of emergency. For a week we dared not stop to rest, making a Day and night we journeyed on until it seemed as though death was better than the terrible suspense. Gradually our fears lessened, though it was weary traveling. After we met a company of prospectors from California we felt comparatively safe, experiencing no farther trouble from the enemy."

Charles E. GREENE, Sr.

Among the wave of emigrants who left the east to answer the call of the Southern California gold fields in 1849 was C. E. Greene, who passed away July 10, 1886, at his home near Davis, after laboring with other brave pioneers nearly thirty years to bring to a state of beauty and production the vast tracts of virgin land in Yolo county, which awaited the touch of the homesteader. Born in Sherburne, Vt., in 1824, he received his education in the local schools of Vermont and New York state. During the excitement occasioned by the discovery of gold in California in 1849 he left his boyhood home in company with others, making the journey by ox-teams, and after a trying and hazardous trip finally reached Sacramento. For a year thereafter he worked in the mines with success, and later was engaged in the mercantile business in Sacramento. In 1852 he settled on Putah creek, where he carried on farming on an extensive scale, later purchasing a tract of twelve hundred and eighty acres of valuable land located five miles from Davis, upon which he made a specialty of grain raising.

Mr. Green was united in marriage in Sacramento in 1855, with Miss Bertha L. Bennett, who was born in Muscatine county, Iowa, and whose parents, Milo and Mary (Gibson) Bennett, were among the first settlers of Sacramento in 1851, having crossed the plains that year. Mr. and Mrs. Greene were blessed with three children: Mrs. B. B. Tuttle, Mrs. Col. James Jackson, and Charles E., Jr. Identified with all public movements of merit, Mr. Greene was known throughout the county as a man of the highest worth and to those who had the privilege of knowing him best, the memory of his life will ever remain an encouragement and a blessing.

Life of Jonthan Greene

Jonathan Greene (& Catherine White) was born April 16, 1760 in East Greenwich, RI. He was the twin of David and died in VT. The genealogical studies on the Greene of Rhode Island in a footnote, stated that Jonathan Greene, twin brother of David Greene, a son of Jabez and Mary Greene (he was the son of Rufus Greene), had moved to Hinesboro in Vermont, where they were henceforth known as "the Vermont Greenes". This indicated that he may also have married in Vermont where there were a number of different Willard families.

CHAPTER XXII
HISTORY OF THE TOWN OF HINESBURG

In 1786 there were added to the settlement Alfred SMALLEY, Job SPAFFORD, Azariah PALMER, Elisha BARBER, Zadok CLARK, Andrew BURRITT, Jonathan GREEN, David GATES, Nathan LEAVENWORTH, Nathan LEAVENWORTH, jr., James GATES, Zalmon WHEELER, Cornelius HURLBURT and Enoch HASKINS.

Alfred SMALLEY and Job SPAFFORD did not remain in town long. Azariah PALMER settled at Rhode Island Corners. Elisha BARBER was not many years a resident of the town, but was quite prominent while here. He owned and occupied the farm next west of the place now owned by Orson WRIGHT, back some distance from the present road, the lot still being known as the Barber lot. Jonathan GREEN was for a number of years a merchant on the Burlington road, his store occupying land now owned by Charles and Enoch WEED.

Jonathan Greene of VT

I'm looking for Jonathan Greene of Hinesburg, VT who had daughter Mary b. 1778 m. David Isham and daughter Hannah b. m. William Lord Isham. The Isham book does not list Jonathan's wifes name. The "Samuel Gordon book" lists a Jonathan Greene b. 1760 who moved to Hinesboro, VT and I am trying to discover if they are one and the same.
Thank-you,
Dianne Eno

RUFUS GREENE.—BRANCH.

IX. Rufus Greene, son of Timothy Green, Jr., and Sybil (Hastings) Green; b. in Amherst, Sept. 8, 1790; m. in Amherst, Jan. 17, 1813, Mary Sheldon Boltwood, dau. of William and Eunice (Noble) Boltwood of Amherst; he d. in Carroll, N. Y., Jan. 26, 1868, ae. 77 yrs. She was b. in Amherst, Feb. 20, 1794; d. in Springville, Erie Co., N. Y., Nov. 2, 1878, ae. 84 ys. He res. in Amherst until May, 1817, when he moved to Wilmington, Vt.; thence in June, 1827, he moved to Carroll, Chautauqua Co., N. Y. In 1841 he moved to Hanover in the same county, but returned in 1845 to Carroll where he spent the rest of his life.

"Rufus Greene was by occupation a farmer. While he res. in Vermont he held the office of county sheriff; in New York he was justice of the peace and commissioner of highways. He was an active member of the Universalist Church in Carroll, N. Y., and for many years a Trustee of that Church. While residing in Vermont he joined that church, and was ever after a zealous and consistent Christian. His family joined the same church with him. He had a strong and logical mind, was a close reasoner, and had a command of language sufficient to make himself clearly understood. He was honorable and upright in all his dealings, kind and generous to the weak and needy, and always an influential citizen.

"Of my mother, Mary Sheldon (Boltwood) Greene, I can think of nothing more appropriate than the words in Prov. 31; 25–28. 'Strength and honor are her clothing; and she shall rejoice in time to come.

She openeth her mouth with wisdom; and in her tongue is the law of kindness.

She looketh well to the ways of her household, and eateth not of the bread of idleness.

Her children arise up, and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praiseth her.'"—Rufus Greene, Jr.

"Dear Dr. Greene: Your father's impressions of my grandfather, Rufus Greene, Sr., were true, corroborated by his whole life, and by the judgment and estimate of all who knew him.

To the least discerning he gave the impression of a man of noble character. One is reminded of the reply of Iole when questioned as to how she knew Hercules was a god, 'Because I was content the moment my eyes fell on him. When I beheld Theseus I desired that I might see him offer battle, or at least guide his horses in the chariot race; but Hercules did not wait for a contest. He conquered whether he stood, or walked, or sat, or whatever thing he did.' He was a man of noble presence, dignified, genial and self-possessed. I believe he would have been as self-possessed in the palace of a king as in the cot of the humblest of his subjects. And this not from any egotism, but rather from its absence, from a certain innate something which would place him on an equal footing with kings.

He was offered the candidacy of some of the highest offices in the County, which he always declined on account — as he claimed — of the deficiency of his early training in the schools." —Mrs. Helen R. Barnsdall.

"DEAR DR. GREENE:

Your great uncle, Rufus Greene, was a man of strong mind and great influence in the communities where he lived. His photo indicates firmness of character. In religion a Universalist, he was ready on all proper occasions to give a reason for 'the faith that was in him.' In politics originally a Democrat, he later, I think, was first a Freesoiler and then a Republican. I have been told that he at one time compelled Reverend, afterward Dr., Zechariah Eddy, whom you knew at Northampton (and a very good man he was too), to apologize for statements he had made in public respecting the Universalist religion.

Yours very truly,

LUCIUS M. BOLTWOOD."

GREEN, ABRAHAM, Hampton 1678. BARTHOLOMEW, Cambridge, freem. 14 May 1634, came the yr. bef. and d. the yr. foll. when mak. prepar. to rem. with major part of his neighb. to Conn. as is said; but his wid. Eliz. wh. d. 28 Oct. 1677, aged 88, and ch. Samuel, Nathaniel, Sarah, w. of Thomas Longhorn, and Phebe, were all of Cambridge ch. 1658. Bartholomew, Boston, youngest ch. of the first Samuel of Cambridge, was a printer of no small note for issue of the first newspaper on our contin. Apr. 1704, and so in our time more thot. of than his f. for the wonderful Bible. He was deac. of the third or Old S. ch. and d. 28 Dec. 1732. Next Thursday the newspaper from his office contain. an ill-compact. memoir, in wh. his f. is made to vouch, perhaps unduly, for sev. things, among others, nineteen ch. eleven by first w. eight by sec. when by the rec. we are led to count seven by one, six by the other. Even the birthday of the propr. may be thot. a yr. too early. Bartholomew, Charlestown, s. of the first Jacob of the same, by w. Maria d. of Rev. Increase Mather had s. Mather & d. Maria, bapt. 15 Oct. 1693; may have had no more. Benjamin, Warwick, s. of the first Thomas of the same, m. Susanna, seventh d. of Randall Houlden, had Benjamin. Charles, Marblehead 1668. Daniel, Wickford 1671, own. jurisdict. of R. I. 20 May of that yr. with other inhab. of that Narraganset country, was prob. the same wh. by w. Rebecca had Peleg, b. 1690; Daniel, 1692; Jonathan, 1694; Rebecca, 1696; Rachel, 1698; Sarah, 1700; and Jonathan, again, 1705. But wh. was his f. is not seen. David, Providence, s. by his sec. w. of the first James, m. a Slocum, perhaps d. of Giles the sec. had David; and by sec. w. wh. was a Barber, had Jonathan, Joseph, and sev. ds. Henry, Reading, call. by Winth. "a scholar," but we kn. not at wh. of the Universit. he was bred, had been, in 1643, invit. to go to Martha's Vineyard by its first sett. but went not, m. Frances, eldest d. of deac. Simon Stone, had Joanna and Nathaniel; and was the earliest min. of R. ord. 5 Nov. 1645, and d. 11 Oct. 1648. His wid. m. as the will of f. shows. Henry, Ipswich 1641, was perhaps the freem. of 13 May 1640, for I can hardly suppose it possible, tho. Farmer gave it without suspicion, that the Rev. Henry would have failed of his prefix of respect from the secr. ‡ Henry, Hampton 1644, was, perhaps, the couns. to the tyranny of Cranfield 1685, m. 1691, prob. for sec. or third w. wid. Martha Page, and d. 5 Aug. 1700, aged a. 80. Henry, Malden, s. of the first Thomas, m. 11 Jan. 1672, Esther Hasey, perhaps d. of William, had Henry, b. John, Warwick, s. of the first John of the same, m. a Baylies, d. perhaps of first John, had Job, Christopher, Daniel, Philip, Amy, Phebe, Mary, and Catharine. John, Charlestown, came in the James from London 1632, arr. 12 June, with w. Perseverance and three ch. John, Jacob, Abigail, Sarah. Jedda, a serv. and Joseph Greene, of whom we may presume that he was a relat. perhaps nephew. Worth says the ch. went twelve passeng. and in the Custom ho. paper we have the names of two beside the seven here ment. His w. was d. of Rev. Francis Johnson, it is said, a puritan of eminence, who had fled to Amsterdam. She with her h. join. the ch. 29 Mar. 1633, and he was made freem. three days after, call. on the rec. serg. but his milit. distinct. was sunk in the more import. title of ruling elder, the only one Charlestown ch. ever had; was sometime town clk. and selectman twelve yrs. begin. in 1646, d. 22 Apr. says the gr.stone or May 1658, aged 65. His will of 21 Apr. of that yr. names w. Joanna, wid. of John Shatswell of Ipswich, and as she had brot. him good est. that had lessened in his hands, he gave her most of his prop. He names in it gr.s. John and Jacob, s. of his s. Jacob, gr.d. Joanna, ch. I suppose, of Richard Shatswell of Ipswich, call. by him s.-in-law, had three ch. at Charlestown, but lost three also, and the surv. were John, Jacob, and Mary, this last b. 1, bapt. 6 Apr. 1634. So much was this name early spread at Malden, that in the remonstrance against the action of the Gen. Ct. upon the case of Rev. Mr. Matthews, their min. sign. by thirty-six females, in 1651, three were nam. Eliz. and one, Margaret, Green. JOHN, Roxbury, liv. with Daniel Brewer, d. bef. 14 Feb. 1639. JOHN, who came in the Francis from Ipswich, in Co. Suffk. 1634, aged 27, may have been of Salem, d. early, leav. wid. to wh. Felt says gr. of ld. was made in 1638, but that diligent writer, I. 516, thot. the husband was of the comp. in the James from Southampton a yr. later. In aid of that conject. perhaps rather slight, is the fact, that six or seven of the passeng. in the more recent sh. bec. inhabs. of Salem. But it is easy to mistake with so common bapt. and surnames. JOHN, Charlestown, s. prob. of first John, b. in Eng. was adm. of the ch. 17 Apr. 1642, and freem. 18 May foll. He digested, from sev. verbal stories, the acco. of settlem. of the town, wh. has remarkably misled Prince and other inquirers. The first seven pages, so far from being a contempo. rec. of exact facts, begin with relation, more or less minute, of what took place thirty-five yrs. earlier. See Young's Chron. of Mass. 387. Ano. wid. with fam. of three was at New Haven 1643, may have been mo. of John, but who was her h. will not be easy to learn. Especial. hard has been the gather. of the Malden fams. and those of the four, five, or six Thomases. Wholly vain would it be, to discrimin. in such a publicat. the fams. by final e, or without it, for, in all contempo. MSS. letters or rec. of the elder days, ea. individ. may be found with either terminat. Twenty-nine of this name, with both forms, had, in 1834, been gr. at Harv. of wh. nine had been min. two at Yale, of wh. one was min. and thirty-one at the other N. E. coll. of wh. one had been min.

GREATGRANDMOTHER:Mary Greene(or Wead) was born in Vermont In January 1830. She died in Havana, N. Dakota after the 1900 census. I think around 1909. Was returned to Wisc. for burial. But unable to find records. In the 1870 census a Betsy Green lived with John and Mary. She was 79 at that time. I have a letter written to Hattie Leach (Grandfather's sister) from Burlington Vt. from a Henry Greene, sending regards to "Grand mother". I assume he meant Betsy. He signed the letter, Cousin Henry. Written May 10 1867. Mary Lived in Somers, Wisc then.

Both of Mary's parents were born in Vermont. I do not know names or dates.

Mary was the Mother of three (3) children. Willian H. born in Wisc. about 1857. Hattie M born in Wisc. Jan. 1858 and My grandfather Edward, whom I have listed.

GRANDMOTHER: Elizabeth King was born in Avoca, Iowa on September 16, 1870. She died in Loa Angeles, Calif. Jan. 21, 1937. She was the Mother of five (5) children. Mable born in S. Dak. July 1889. GREAT GRANDFATHER:Samuel Ashley King was born in Chelsea (Orange (Vermont) County) March 14, 1825. He was the son of John King and Alpha M. H. Buck both born in Vermont.(I think his parents married March,1821) He married a Hannah E. Stedwell around 1852. Where I do not know. He lived in Iowa, where all his children were born. Around 1875 he moved his family to So. Dak. where he died in 1906 on Oct. 15th.

GREATGRANDMOTHER: Hannah E. Stedwell was born May 1830. She died in S. Dak. Dec. 22, 1894. She was born in New York. Samuel and Hannah lived around Britton, S. Dakota. There were Kings living there in the 1940's whom I'm sure were relatives. One was a Judge. (Judge King). I think Jays son.

This concludes all I know about my Father's side of the family. I think later we will work on my Mother's side.

Sincerly,

1643, Jan. 12. Warwick. He and ten others bought of Miantonomi, for 144 fathoms of wampum, tract of land called Shawomet (Warwick).

1643, Sep. 12. He, with others of Warwick, was notified to appear at Boston, to hear complaint of Pomham and Socconocco, as to "some unjust and injurious dealing toward them by yourselves." Soldiers were soon sent, who besieged the settlers in a fortified house. In a parley it was now said "that they held blasphemous errors which they must repent of" or go to Boston for trial, and they were soon carried there, except John Greene, who fortunately escaped. His companions were imprisoned till the next March, and then he and they were banished.

1644. He and Samuel Gorton and Randall Holden, went to England to obtain redress for their wrongs, being obliged to take ship at New York.

His father was a physician and settled at Scituate, where he had an extensive practice. He was a surgeon in the French War and served at Fort William Henry, 1757. "This dear and aged Friend was extensively known at all the Yearly Meetings on this continent, having been engaged in religious service at different times within the limits of most of them, and leaving, we believe, with all who knew him, a sweet memory of a mild, dignified, and Christian minister. . . .

"He became a member of our religious society from convincement, at the age of twenty-five years, and his gift in the ministry was acknowledged by Friends in the year 1803. From the time he put his hand to the plough, he looked not back, but exhibited a constancy in the service of the Saviour whom he loved, and a practical faith in Him as the object of his hope and trust that were truly edifying and encouraging.

"In all the varied trials and siftings through which our religious society has passed, Rowland Greene was ever found faithful to the truth, and unflinching in its support, standing in the front rank and with great meekness and gentleness, but with unwavering firmness, opposing error, and sustaining the beautiful order of the Gospel.

"To him, Friends have been accustomed to turn, as to a father in the church, and to look to him for wise and prudent counsel, which was never withheld. He was eminently a peace-maker; his meek and gentle spirit giving him a place and influence with all.

"To him, might—in more than common measure—be applied the language, 'Behold an Israelite, indeed, in whom there is no guile!'

"For several months he was very much confined to the house, his physical and mental powers gradually fading, but love, his peculiar characteristic, always abounding; and finally, without any appearance of suffering, he was gathered 'in a full age, like as a shock of corn cometh in, in his season.'"

When the war broke out, Mr. Greene became Assistant Quartermaster-General of the State, serving till the close of hostilities. He was made secretary of a business-mens' organization, and was agent of the Berkshire Life Insurance Co., which place he held until his death. Mr. Greene was a man of impressive manner and appearance, and as a speaker possessed great clearness and force. He retained his knowledge of ancient languages to such an unusual degree that he was frequently called upon to examine candidates for the university in this branch. In the First Church of Indianapolis he was a man of marked usefulness; on the semi-centennial anniversary of the church he prepared a historical discourse with great literary skill. 2376. RUFUS⁷ GREENE (Rufus⁶, Thomas⁵, Richard⁴, Richard³, Thomas², John¹) was born December 28, 1806. He married (1) October 31, 1827, Minerva Bucklin, daughter of Oliver and Sarah (Bucklin) Sutton, born May 16, 1810, died January 26, 1838. He married (2) April 20, 1840, Harriet, daughter of Elkanah and Lydia (Carlisle) Lincoln, of Putney, Vt., born December 12, 1819, died August 1, 1857. She was granddaughter of Captain Daniel Carlisle of the Revolutionary Army (died 1794) and his wife, Lydia Pierce, who lived to be a centenarian, dying at Westmoreland, N. H., September 12, 1856. Rufus Greene was married (3) by Rev. E. B.

Hall, at Providence, September 5, 1859, to Ellen Maria, daughter of James G. and Sally F. Armington. He died at Providence, November 16, 1871.

"In the death of Rufus Greene, the city loses one of its most estimable citizens, a merchant of the highest character, of intelligence, probity, and capacity, and in the midst of active and successful business. Mr. Greene was at one time largely connected with the African trade, and it is supposed that the seeds of the disease of which he died were planted on that insalubrious coast. In the latter years of his life, Mr. Greene was engaged in banking, to which he brought the same high qualities, intellectual and moral, that had conducted him to success in commerce. He will be missed in many places and regretted by many friends."—Providence Journal.

F. J. GREENE ENGINEERING WORKS.

There are not many hours in which the ring of hammer and steel does waken the echoes in Racine and the name of the city has become to the outs world a synonym for unflagging industry. Various successful industrial c cerns have contributed to the reputation of the city in this regard. The F Greene Engineering Works have been in existence since 1892, when the busi was established by Fred and George Hodges under the firm style of Hodge Son. Two years later, or in 1894, F. J. Greene purchased an interest in the b ness and about 1902 he bought out George Hodges, at which time the firm s of Hodges & Greene was assumed. That relation was continued until 1 when Mr. Greene purchased the interest of Fred Hodges, since which time business has been carried on under the style of the F. J. Greene Enginee Works. The plant is located at the corner of Douglas and Prospect str The property is two hundred and fifteen by two hundred and twenty feet the three story buildings are all mill construction, supplied with sprin system. They have sixty or more employes and they manufacture special chinery, also fabricate structural iron work. In addition they do general work and repairing, having a completely equipped machine shop. Their ness also includes electric plating of all kinds, stamping and screw mac work and they contract for the fabrication and erection of steel build They have furnished steel and erected most of the steel buildings in R that have been erected in the past few years and also important structur this part of the state.

FREDERICK J. GREENE.

For twenty-two years Frederick J. Greene has been an active represent of the industrial life of Racine and in his business career he has eagerl braced the opportunities leading to success. Never content to wait fo favors which fortune might bring, he has worked diligently and has e the rewards of earnest, self-denying labor. Racine county numbers him a her native sons. He was born at Berryville, this county, March 15, 1869, a son of Melville R. and Elizabeth (Collins) Greene, who were natives of Vermont and New York, respectively. Removing westward they became early residents of Racine county, where for many years the father followed the occupation of farming, but he has now departed this life. His widow, however, still survives.

Frederick J. Greene acquired a public school education in the district schools near his father's home and was reared to farm work, but thinking to find other pursuits more congenial than the tasks of plowing, planting and harvesting, he began learning the machinist's trade, working in the plant of the J. I. Case Threshing Machine Company until 1894, when he purchased an interest in the firm of Hodges & Son. From that time forward he has been active in the management and control of the business and gradually he took over the interests of his partners, first buying out the father and afterward the son. The business is now conducted under the name of the F. J. Greene Engineering Works and Mr. Greene is most busily employed in planning, managing and controlling the interests of this establishment.

On the 5th of April, 1898, occurred the marriage of Mr. Greene and Miss Minnie McClellan, of Racine, and to them have been born four children: Carlyle, Bernice, Grace and Jeanette. The family attend the Methodist Episcopal church and Mr. Greene belongs to the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks and to the Royal League. His political endorsement is given to the republican party and he studies thoroughly those questions which are of vital interest in settling the affairs of the commonwealth, but he does not seek nor desire office, preferring to concentrate his energies upon his business interests. However, he served on the board of supervisors at one time.

JENS C. JENSEN.

Jens C. Jensen, president and treasurer of the Jensen Brothers Dry Goods Store, was active in incorporating this business in 1912, but for many years before had been closely associated with commercial activity in this city. He had come to the United States in 1872 when a young man of nineteen years and in the spring of 1875, when twenty-two years of age arrived in Racine. His birth occurred in Denmark, September 11, 1852, his parents being C. and Maria Jensen, who were natives of that country and there spent their entire lives. Reared and educated in Denmark, Jens C. Jensen determined to seek his fortune in the United States when nineteen years of age and in 1872 sailed for the new world. He spent six months in Connecticut and then removed westward to Kenosha where he obtained a clerkship in a dry goods store, continuing there until the spring of 1875 when he arrived in Racine. Here he also engaged in clerking until 1881 but it was his firm purpose to engage in business on his own account and with that end in view he carefully saved his earnings until he was able to form a partnership and establish a store. He became associated with Jacob Stoffel under the firm style of Jensen & Stoffel and they opened a store, which they conducted until 1887. In that year Mr. Jensen disposed of his interest to his partner and removed to California, where goods she brought when we were married. THE CIVIL WAR ROSTER

This roster contains the names of all the men from Racine county who served in the army or navy during the War of the Rebellion; all the names, that is, that we have been able to get record of. The list includes those who resided in the county, even though they enlisted elsewhere, as well as those who resided elsewhere and came here to get the bounty offered by the various towns for enlistments.

The first line of each record gives the name, age, whether married or single, and residence; the second line gives the company, regiment, branch of service, and date of enlistment. For further explanation see "key to abbreviations."

However, a record of his whereabouts in 1850 has not been found. To date, Mary C. Greene has not been located in the 1850 census. She was 20 or 21 years old at the time of the census. Since she was born on 4 January 1830, she was probably 21 years old at the time the census was taken.

> It was with some relief that the following brief sketch of the Leaches was found: "JOHN C. LEACH, farmer, Sec. 5; P.O. Kenosha; born in New York in 1827; came West in 1851, locating in Kenosha Co.; he engaged in farming, which he followed until 1870, when he left his farm, returning in 1872, since which time he has remained on the farm; 1858 to 1860, he was Assessor for the town of Somers; was a member of the Town Board of Supervisors from 1873 to 1876, Town Treasurer in 1876, and is Town Treasurer at present; is a member of the M. E. Church. Married, in Kenosha, in 1855, Miss Mary C. Greene, a native of Vermont; they have three children, two boys and one girl--William H., Hattie M. and Edward J. Mr. Leach owns eighty and a half acres."[24]

After the death of Rufus Greene in March 1847, his wife, Betsey, and some of their children made their way to southeastern Wisconsin. The 1850 U.S. Census recorded Betsey, Ira, and Melville Greene as residents of Somers, Kenosha County, Wisconsin.[25] In the 1855 "Enumeration of the Inhabitants of the Town of Somers in Kenosha County, State of Wisconsin, on the first day of June, 1855, Widow Green was listed with two white males and two white females. Ira Greene was listed below Widow Green. Three white males and two white females were counted in the Ira Greene household. John Leach was listed with one white male and one white female. Since this census data was alphabetized, it was impossible to determine whether the Greene and the Leach households were neighbors.[26]

The 1860 U.S. Census for Somers taken 1 June 1860 recorded two Greene and one Leach household as follows: Dwelling No. 856, Family No. 775, Ira W. Green, age 33, born Vermont; Ada F. Green, 30, Ohio; Charles M., 9, Illinois; Imogene C. 7, Wisconsin; Helen C., 1, Wisconsin. Dwelling No. 857, Family No. 776, J. C. Leach, age 30, born New York; Mary C. Leach, 24, Vermont; William H. Leach, 3, Wisconsin; Hattie Leach 2, Wisconsin; John Frien, 24, Germany; Betsey Green, 63, Vermont. Dwelling No. 858, Family No. 777, Melville Green, age 37, born Vermont; Elisabeth Green, 22, New Jersey; Robert Green, 2, Wisconsin; George Green, 1/12, New Hampshire. . .The itemized data for each person in this census provided the name, age and birthplace for every member of each household..[27]

John C. Leach and his wife, Mary, had three children. Their oldest child, William H. Leach, was born 22 September 1856 in Somers, Kenosha County, Wisconsin. He died 17 March 1926 in Racine from cerebral apoplexy.[28] William Leach married Emma Elizabeth Kingman, on 13 November 1878 in Somers. Emma was born 23 November 1855, the daughter of Enos Kingman and Elizabeth Gould. She died 14 July 1936 in Racine.[29] A record of the marriage of William and Emma was found in Kenosha County records.[30]

William and Emma had several children who were born in Racine, Racine County, Wisconsin. The following information has been provided concerning their children. Arthur Garfield Leach was born 13 July 1884. He married Arabelle Gibson in Racine. Arthur died 5 September 1941 at age 57 of a cerebral hemorrhage. He was buried in Mound Cemetery, Racine. Ethel E. was born always under her individual number, excepting in a few instances where great-grandchildren have been included or interesting data supplied. Uniform orthography of the name is observed throughout. Although heads of families in other Greene lines may have dropped the final e, the descendants of John Greene, surgeon, have uniformly retained it.

Authorities are cited whenever indicated in the MSS. or as supplied by the compiler. When lacking in regard to points of importance it may be safely concluded that General Greene, after careful research, was entirely convinced of their accuracy or he would not have so recorded them.

The kindly assistance given to General Greene during the long years of his labor is hereby gratefully acknowledged, with regret that no list of contributors has been preserved. The cordial, courteous aid rendered more recently to the compiler in the completion of these records is deeply appreciated.

Many collateral lines were followed by General Greene with patient care, but it was not deemed expedient to thus enlarge the present work, thereby delaying its publication indefinitely.

The labor of compilation from another's notes requires unusual patience, exactness, and perseverance, and becomes the more difficult when consultation is no longer possible. The collator's plans, so far as known or gathered from the character of his notes, have been conscientiously followed, but in some instances even extensive correspondence and personal effort on the part of the compiler have failed to bring the desired information. In common, therefore, with other works of this nature, there will be found some incomplete or incorrect records.

While the present work has been accomplished under difficulties that all co-workers will readily recognize, it is hoped that in some directions new light may be obtained therefrom, thus increasing the interest of the numerous Greene descendants and possibly stimulating some among their number to continue research and perfect the history of this distinguished family.

Charles E. GREENE (#1)

Among the leading citizens of Yolo county is Charles E. Greene, the owner of El Nido ranch, comprising two hundred acres eight miles southwest of Woodland, which ranks among the finest and most highly developed ranches in that section. Representing the type of man well fitted for the labor of building up a community, Mr. Greene's executive ability and tenacity of purpose, united with unquestioned honor and good judgment have enables him to control with ease the many problems which are inevitable in his work.

Mr. Greene was born July 9, 1865, in the old Greene home adjoining the present place, where his father, whose life appears elsewhere in this volume, located in 1852. Upon completion of his public school education the son entered the California Military Academy, at Oakland, where he continued his studies for three years and later took a course in the Atkinson Business College at Sacramento, where he graduated in 1885. He then assisted his father in the management of their ranch consisting of twelve hundred and eighty acres devoted to grain raising. In 1902, in connection with the home place, he rented the Hext place, comprising nine hundred and sixty acres adjoining the old home, and after giving up the Hext ranch he rented the Marders grain ranch of nine hundred acres located near Esparto. After four years he relinquished his control of this property in order to take charge of the two hundred acre tract allotted to him upon the division of his father's estate, since which period he has devoted his efforts to the improvement of his inheritance. In addition to raising barley, which runs fifteen to twenty-five sacks per acre, he conducts an almond orchard of fourteen acres which produces from one-half to three quarters of a ton per acre annually. His comfortable bungalow erected in 1906 is surrounded by trees, vines and shrubbery, artistically arranged, and his entire ranch is suggestive of the progressive thought and untiring industry of its owner.

July 30, 1902, Mr. Greene was married at Sacramento to Miss Cornelia Purrington, whose birth occurred in Sutter county and whose parents, Henry and Anna (Parker) Purrington, were natives of Maine and California respectively. Two daughters, Lucile and Dorothy, have been born to Mr. and Mrs. Greene. Since 1896 Mr. Greene has been an active member of Athens Lodge No. 228, F. & A. M., at Davis, being affiliated also with Woodland Chapter No. 46, R. A. M., and Woodland Commandery No. 21, and by virtue of his wife's identification with Ionia Chapter No. 199, O. E. S., at Davis, is likewise enabled to enjoy the privileges of that order. In all enterprises pertaining to the public good, Mr. Greene is prompt to lend his hearty support, and is conceded to be one of the most able citizens of the section in which he is so well and favorably known.

Charles E. Greene, deceased, formerly a prominent farmer of Yolo County, was born in Shelburne, Vermont, May 24, 1825, his parents being Rufus and Betsey (Weed) Greene. His ancestry is traceable to the De Gras family of France, and later to the family in Rhode Island named Greene, with whom the famous Revolutionary General Nathaniel Greene was connected. When the subject of this sketch was twelve years of age his parents removed to Hopkinton, New York, resided there seven years, where Charles attended the Hopkinton Academy, and then removed to Southport (now Kenosha), Wisconsin. There Mr. Greene taught school awhile and then clerked in the drug store of this brother, Pliny P., a practicing physician. March 13, 1849, he started for California with an ox team, and arrived in Sacramento, October 13, after a comparatively pleasant trip.

Upon his arrival in California, Mr. Greene engaged in mining for a time, with success; then he was in mercantile business, in partnership with Mr. Hutchinson, in Sacramento, on J street, where the old Fountain House now stands, until 1852; and while there the firm was obliged to take some land in Yolo County in security for a debt, and Mr. Greene took charge of it. It was twelve miles from Woodland and known as the "Big Ranch." The grant title was proven fraudulent, after expensive litigation in the courts. This, with other things, caused Mr. Greene to lose all that he had saved. He lived there, however, until 1860, when he moved upon the place where his widow now resides. After locating there he had many discouraging failures, but fortune at length crowned his efforts, and at the time of his death, in July, 1886, he had one of the most productive farms in Yolo County. It is situated five miles north and east of Davisville, and contains 1,280 acres, all enclosed. It is the best of wheat land; and here the widow and two of the children reside, continuing in agricultural pursuits.

Mr. Greene was a settled Republican and a public-spirited and exemplary citizen. In July, 1855, he married Miss Bertha L. Bennett, of Sacramento. She was a native of Muscatine, Iowa, and a daughter of Milo and Mary J. (Gibson) Bennett, the father a native of Vermont and the mother of New Hampshire. Mr. Bennett crossed the plains with his family to Sacramento in 1851, principally for the sake of his health; but he died the next year. Mrs. Greene has had three children: the eldest, Kate A., who is now Mr. B. B. Tuttle, of Portland, Oregon; Ella A. and Charles E., Jr.

Mrs. Greene relates the following encounter with Indians while crossing the plains in 1851:
"When we left Council Bluffs, our company numbered about sixty persons, all expecting to go to Oregon, but before reaching the junction of the California and Oregon roads, my father with some others decided to go to California. Our division consisted of ten men, two women and seven children, separating from the main company, taking our way toward California. Occasionally we were visited by Indians in small numbers, and while we treated them kindly always refused their request for ammunition, which they seemed anxious to have. A few days after one of these visits we had some cattle shot, but as they were not greatly injured we did not leave them. This may have angered the Indians, for we began to notice signal fires in all directions. Arriving at the Humboldt River, where water and grass was plentiful, we concluded to rest for a few days, but on a second consideration we thought it prudent to try and overtake a company who were only two days in advance of us. The signal fires increased in numbers, making us feel that danger threatened.
"At the close of the second day we reached a place called Stony Point, and as usual one of our number was sent forward to choose our camping grounds; my sister and myself accompanying him to the place selected, we went down to the river to get a drink and wash our faces. The gentleman with us stooped down to get some water and was in the act of putting it to his lips when he discovered an Indian on the opposite bank just raising his gun. Simultaneously a report sounded from both sides, and our escort called to us to run as the Indians were upon us. This we die crying 'Indians!' 'Indians!' at every step. Our cry was heard just as the wagons were forming the camp. Immediately our captain ordered a retreat from the willows, and we barely reached a place where the Indians could not fire on us from ambush, when we were surrounded by between seventy-five and 100 yelling, dancing Indians. The wounded man had managed to reach the camp in a short time; two others were disabled, thus reducing our defenders to seven men. We made breastworks of bed and pillows, thus affording a slight protection from which our men could return the fire of the enemy.
"The sun went down on a seemingly doomed company, surrounded by overwhelming numbers. Our death, or worse, our capture, seemed inevitable. Within our camp there was a death-like stillness, each one realizing that the next moment might be our last on earth. The firing from both sides continued until midnight, when we could see that some sort of a council was being held. We were not left long in suspense as to their intentions, for suddenly the sky grew red and we were inclosed <sic> in a wall of fire. The grass was about eighteen inches high and very dry, and as we saw the flames advancing toward us we felt that there was no longer any hope. Surely God was our defense; for when the fire had reached within twenty yards of the camp it went out. They did not dare relight it, as any attempt to do so would have brought them within range of our guns; so they continued shooting at us until about eight o'clock the next morning. Then, seemingly discouraged, they disappeared. After a consultation among our company it was deemed advisable to proceed, but as the traveled road was for the greater part of the way among the willows we decided to abandon that, taking our way across the hills with only the sun for our guide. Each man carried his gun in one hand, a whip in the other, the women and children always carrying weapons. The wisdom of our course was soon manifest, for the Indians once more swarmed from their hiding places and commenced firing upon us.
"For three days and nights we were without water, excepting such as we found in the stagnant pools, and this so foul that we could only drink it with vinegar or make it into coffee. The stock was watered by women and children passing buckets from hand to hand, while every man with gun in hand stood ready to fire in case of emergency. For a week we dared not stop to rest, making a fire once a day, and then only enough to make our coffee, lest the smoke should reveal us to the enemy. Day and night we journeyed on until it seemed as though death was better than the terrible suspense. Gradually our fears lessened, though it was weary traveling. As my father had lost all his stock, and only by dividing the teams belonging to others were we able to bring one wagon, which contained all we possessed in the world. After we met a company of prospectors from California we felt comparatively safe, experiencing no farther trouble from the enemy."

Charles E. GREENE, Sr.

Among the wave of emigrants who left the east to answer the call of the Southern California gold fields in 1849 was C. E. Greene, who passed away July 10, 1886, at his home near Davis, after laboring with other brave pioneers nearly thirty years to bring to a state of beauty and production the vast tracts of virgin land in Yolo county, which awaited the touch of the homesteader. Born in Sherburne, Vt., in 1824, he received his education in the local schools of Vermont and New York state. During the excitement occasioned by the discovery of gold in California in 1849 he left his boyhood home in company with others, making the journey by ox-teams, and after a trying and hazardous trip finally reached Sacramento. For a year thereafter he worked in the mines with success, and later was engaged in the mercantile business in Sacramento. In 1852 he settled on Putah creek, where he carried on farming on an extensive scale, later purchasing a tract of twelve hundred and eighty acres of valuable land located five miles from Davis, upon which he made a specialty of grain raising.

Mr. Green was united in marriage in Sacramento in 1855, with Miss Bertha L. Bennett, who was born in Muscatine county, Iowa, and whose parents, Milo and Mary (Gibson) Bennett, were among the first settlers of Sacramento in 1851, having crossed the plains that year. Mr. and Mrs. Greene were blessed with three children: Mrs. B. B. Tuttle, Mrs. Col. James Jackson, and Charles E., Jr. Identified with all public movements of merit, Mr. Greene was known throughout the county as a man of the highest worth and to those who had the privilege of knowing him best, the memory of his life will ever remain an encouragement and a blessing.

She would also relate stories about the Indians, who were frequently seen about the Sadawga Pond, which still bears its Indian name, and upon whose southern border lies the farm where their cabin was first built and where they lived and died.

Nathan Greene was a man of great physical strength and intellectual development, energetic and ambitious, always ready with a joke, yet of great will power and decision of character, which attributes appear characteristic of the Greene family.

He was quite an extensive land-owner. The records of the town show that he sold in 1785 and during the following years, tracts of land or farms to nine different persons. March 20, 1822, having become old and somewhat infirm, he sold his homestead to David Hosley, jr. (his son-in-law), taking back a life lease of the premises.

Their children were:

Hannah, born Jan. 31, 1781; married Lincoln Hall, and removed to Pennsylvania.
Alfred, born in Whitingham, Nov. 21, 1783.
Rhoda, born in Whitingham, July 12, 1785.
Lydia, born in Whitingham, April 17, 1787.
Polly, born in Whitingham, June 22, 1789.
Anna, born in Whitingham, Oct. 21, 1791.
Nathan, jr., born in Whitingham, Dec. 3, 1793.
Twins, born in Whitingham, March 17, 1795.
Daniel, born in Whitingham, Dec. 18, 1796.
Sally, born in Whitingham, March 3, 1799.

Nathan Greene died Sunday, May 6, 1838.

hundred and one persons, whose names are specified, their heirs and assigns, "So long as the same shall be occupied and made use of as a public green, surrounding the meeting-house now building thereon, or any that shall hereafter be built thereon for the purpose aforesaid." From the language of this deed, it appears that the building had already commenced the 17th of March, 1810. The old vane which surmounted the steeple, bore the date 1811, indicating that the house was completed in that year.

A careful study of the names included in this deed will show that the liberal donor selected those citizens of the town, who were most likely to unite in the support of public worship. The list contains the names of the leading Congregationalists in town. It does not contain the names of those who were at that time identified with any one of the out steak—carries home—wife delighted—heard gun go off—thought breakfast coming—roasts meat on forked stick—eats—no butter, pepper, salt—after breakfast calls up all neighbors—they skin moose—each takes a piece—. Hall gets out hand sled—loads on moose meat and pelt—goes to St. Johnsbury—trades—gets three pecks potatoes, half bushel meal, peck salt—carries home to wife—wife delighted—sundown.

One likes to think that the staccato style of this narrative brings us the flavor of Daniel Hall's own mode of speech, though it may be only the manner of the one who retold the story for the compiler of the Gazetteer, or the mode of note-taking of the one who wrote it down.

A 12-year-old daughter of Daniel Hall died in Lyndon in 1794 of canker-rash. By 1800, listed as more than 45 years old, he had moved on to Burke where he was living among the pioneers with five other persons in his family: a boy and two girls under 10, a boy between 10 and 16, and a wife between 26 and 45. In 1819 an entry in the Burke town records shows that hard luck had caught up with Daniel Hall: "Voted that the selectmen pay $10.25 for Daniel Hall's cow and save her to the family at Discretion." But he and Sally, his wife, were self-respecting, if poor, and cleaned the meeting-house yearly to pay their pew-rent. He died in 1829 at 78 years, and is buried, with his wife, in Burke Green Cemetery, a soldier of the Revolution and a pioneer settler in four Vermont towns.

John Leach, called Jonathan in Hemenway, was a settler from Bridgewater, Massachusetts, who had a disconcerting experience getting started in Burke. His first "pitch" was in the center of the town, where he purchased land and began improvements. But while he was away moving his family from the Bay State to their new home, the proprietors of Burke, Connecticut people only one of whom (Ozias Humphrey) ever came to settle in the town, obtained a new draught of their holdings. This brought Mr. Leach's number in a different place, some five miles south of the spot where he had begun clearing land, into the region called "Burke Tongue," then unbroken wilderness, which was later added to the town of Kirby. With a neighbor as a guide (was it Daniel Hall?), Mr. Leach set off to hunt this new location, finding it with difficulty. In April, 1800, he began to make a log house, a hard task as he had no shingles or boards, to say nothing of day of July, 1762. The last meeting of the proprietors at New Milford, according to the records, was held May 9, 1783. One week later, viz., May 16, 1783, a notice was issued through the "public papers," signed by Ira Allen at Sunderland, warning the proprietors "to meet at the house of Abner Chaffee in said Hinesburgh on the fifth Monday of June next." The meeting so warned was held. Noble Hine was chosen moderator and Isaac Hitchcock, clerk, and then adjourned to meet at the house of Isaac Lawrence, July 7, 1783. At this adjourned meeting, and others held on the 9th and 10th of the same month, several votes were taken and recorded, some of which are as follows:

"Voted to lay out a second division of land consisting of two lots each to the original proprietors, each lot to consist of 102 acres." Ira Allen, Isaac Hitchcock and Noble Hine were appointed a committee to lay out said division of land, and when complete to make a draft to each proprietor.

"Voted to rescind the vote passed at New Milford, Jan. 10, 1775, giving to Col. Ethan Allen and others 400 acres of land for making road—as they did not do it."

"Voted to give Isaac Lawrence, John McNeil, Elnathan Hubbell and John Bishop, Jr., 100 acres of land each, for making road, they paying for surveying the same."

"Voted to raise a tax of $4,00 on each original right of land, to pay for laying out the second division, to be paid by the first day of November next."

Elnathan Hubbell, Jr., of Bennington, was appointed collector.

FIRST SETTLERS.

The only settlers known to have resided in town previous to the Revolution were ISAAC LAWRENCE, from Canaan, Conn., and ABNER CHAFFEE. At a meeting of the proprietors at New Milford, Conn., Jan. 10, 1775, Mr. Lawrence was voted 100 acres of land, with the liberty to make his own selection of it, in consideration of labor done by him and at his expense in making roads. He selected lot number 26, in the second division. Mr. Chaffee lived on the place at the south end of the village, near the plat now owned by W. J. Douglass. At the beginning of the war they both left. Mr. Lawrence returned at the close of the war. His family endured some of the severest hardships, so well known to the first inhabitants of Vermont. Mrs. Lawrence has said that she lived 10 months at one time without seeing the face of any other woman, and that for a while one season the only food used by the family was dried pumpkins with the little mouldy flour that the children scraped from the inside of a barrel that had been wet. In 1793 Mr. Lawrence sold out to Epaphras Hull, from Wallingford, and moved to Canada.

In 1784 Mr. Lawrence was joined by Jacob Meacham from Rutland, Hezekiah Tuttle from Williamstown, Mass., and Amos Andrews.

In 1785 the town was further occupied by George McEuen from New Milford, Conn., George Palmer from Stonington, Conn., Elisha Meech, Eliphaz and George Steele, Thomas Place, Thomas Butler, Joseph Wilcox, Thomas McFarland and Elkanah Billings.

In 1786 there were added to the settlement, viz.: Alfred Smalley, Job Spafford, Azariah Palmer, Elisha Barber, Zadok Clark, Andrew Burritt, Jonathan Green, David Gates, Nathan Leavenworth and Nathan Leavenworth, Jr., James Gates, Zalmon Wheeler, Cornelius Hurlbut and Enoch Haskins.

In 1787 were added Elijah Peck, James Comings, Seth Basset, Jonathan Marshal, Knaptaly Bishop, Lemuel Bostwick, Joseph Farrand, David Hill, Nathan Stuart, Thaddeus Stuart, Abraham Stuart, Eleazer Sprague, Lockwood Mead, Alpheus Mead, Simeon Hine, Robert McEuen, David Weller, Samuel Dorwin, Stephen Spalding, Ezbon Noble, David Spencer, Ebenezer Stone, Moses Smalley and Jonas Shattuck.

The foregoing is a full list, so far as we have been able to ascertain, of all the settlers of the town before its organization.

The first town meeting was warned by Isaac Tichenor, Esq., of Bennington, and holden on the third Tuesday of March, 1787, at the house of Eliphaz Steele. Josiah Steele was chosen moderator, Elisha Barber, town clerk; Elisha Barber, George McEuen, Eliphaz Steele, selectmen; Jacob Meacham, constable. Lemuel Bostwick was the first representative in the legislature.

The first military company was organized in 1788. Nathan Leavenworth, Jr., was then chosen Lieutenant. There were not enough men in town subject to military duty for a Captain's commission. The next year, Mildred said that Melville Greene had a daughter who married a Mr. Sesson. We didn't find a daughter listed with Melville + Elizabeth in 1860 census, but I'll check the 1870 census when I get to Boston in July.

Betty Leach.

I have probably lost a generation here. May Greene was born in 1862 - So there coming a member of the firm of Jacob Fullarton & Co., of Boston. Mr. Cottrell remained a member of this latter firm until 1874, when he returned to Newport, and during the following year was employed by his father in the latter's furniture store. The next year he was employed in the wholesale department of A. T. Stewart & Co.'s store in New York City. Mr. Cottrell then returned to Newport and again entered his father's employ, remaining with him until the latter's death, in 1893. Upon the death of their father, Mr. Cottrell and his brother, Robert C., were appointed trustees of the estate, and they have since continued to conduct the business, Charles M. devoting his time to the furniture and wall-paper departments, while Robert C. gives his attention to the undertaking and embalming. Charles M. Cottrell is treasurer of the City Steam Laundry Company, of Newport, of which he was one of the founders and incorporators.

Mr. Cottrell is a member of Coronet Council, No. 63, Royal Arcanum, and was, during its existence, a member of the Business Men's Association of Newport. He is also connected with the Gen. G. K. Warren Post Associates, of Newport. In religious matters he is connected with the Trinity Episcopal Church. In political faith he adheres to the principles of the Republican party.

On May 2, 1894, Mr. Cottrell was united in marriage to Miss Marie Fladwad, daughter of Thron Fladwad, of Christiania, Norway, and three children have been born to this union, namely: Margaret, Eleanor Olene and Marie Teresa Cottrell.

Robert Clarke Cottrell, son of the late Michael and Catherine E. (Wallace) Cottrell, was born Sept. 24, 1853, in Newport, R. I., and received his early educational training in the schools of his native city, which he attended until he was sixteen years of age. After leaving school he entered his father's store as a clerk, and remained in his father's employ until the latter's death, which occurred in 1893, since which time, with his brother, Charles M., under the firm style of C. M. & R. C. Cottrell, he has continued to conduct the business in which his father had been so successful. That he might successfully carry on the undertaking and embalming department of the business, Mr. Cottrell took a course in the Cincinnati (Ohio) School of Embalming, from which institution he was graduated in 1880. In political opinion Mr. Cottrell has always been a stalwart adherent of the principles of the Republican party, and has faithfully served his native city as a member of the school board for six years. He also served for a period of three years as a member of the board of aldermen. In 1905 he was the unanimous choice of his party as the candidate for the mayoralty of the city, and was elected chief executive over Patrick J. Boyle, the Democratic candidate, by a substantial majority. He served his city in that capacity in 1906 with efficiency and ability. As mayor of the city he was also trustee (ex-officio) of the Newport Hospital. Mr. Cottrell is a consistent member of Trinity Episcopal Church of Newport, and is senior vestryman of the church, having been a member of the board of vestrymen for a number of years.

On Feb. 14, 1881, Mr. Cottrell was united in marriage with Miss Annie Johnson Southwick, the adopted daughter of the late Samuel S. Southwick, of Newport. To Mr. and Mrs. Cottrell were born the following named children: Edwin Angell, born Dec. 14, 1881; Harriet Nowell, born March 24, 1884; Sarah Southwick, born Dec. 4, 1885; Catherine Wallace, born May 29, 1889; Samuel Middleton, born Aug. 2, 1893; and Annie Louise, born Dec. 20, 1895. The mother of these children passed away in Newport, Jan. 20, 1904.

GREENE (Warwick Branch). There were among the early settlers of Rhode Island three families who bore precisely the same name—John Greene—but were, so far as is known, unrelated by birth to each other. One of these had its origin in Newport, one at Warwick, and the other at Quidnesset Neck in North Kingstown. It is the purpose here to treat briefly only the family of the late Hon. Simon Henry Greene, himself long a distinguished citizen and manufacturer of the town of Warwick, and of the family lineage. Several of the sons of Mr. Greene, too, along with their father and since have worthily sustained the honored inheritance of a distinguished lineage and earned a reputation worthy of their sires. Reference is made to Edward Aborn Greene, long an honored and distinguished citizen of Providence; to the late President Henry L. Greene, of the Clyde Bleachery & Print Works of that village, one of the foremost manufacturers and prominent business men of the State; and to Christopher R. and William R. Greene, who maintained a residence and active connection with the manufacturing plant of S. H. Greene & Sons at Clyde.

These sons of the late Simon Henry Greene are descendants in the eighth generation from Surgeon John Greene, of Salem, Mass., and Providence and Warwick, R. I., whose posterity have earned by their valuable services in peace and war an enviable pre-eminence in the State. Their lineage is through John (2), Job, Hon. Philip, Col. Christopher, Col. Job (2), and Hon. Simon Henry Greene. These generations in the order given follow in detail.

(I) John Greene, a surgeon of Salisbury, county of Wilts, England, born in 1597, a son of Richard and also a grandson of Richard Greene, both of whom were residents of Bowridge Hill, Gillingham,

D[illegible]tshire, where it is probable John was born, was married (first) at Salisbury Nov. 4, 1619, to Joan Tattersall, who was the mother of his children. In 1635 he sailed from Southampton, England, in the ship "James," and in June of that year arrived in Boston. He was later at Salem, and at Providence in 1636. He was one of twelve to whom Roger Williams deeded land in 1638, and in the following year was one of the twelve original members of the First Baptist Church. He and ten others purchased in 1643 the tract of land called Shawomet (Warwick). His death occurred in 1658.

(II) John Greene (2), of Warwick, born in 1620, married Ann Almy, born in 1627, daughter of William and Audry Almy, and they died respectively Nov. 27, 1708, and May 17, 1709. Major Greene was one of the prominent public men of his day. He was commissioner, 1652-63; general recorder, 1652-54; general solicitor, 1655; attorney-general, 1657-60; assistant, almost without interruption from 1660 to 1690; deputy, 1664-75, 1677-80; and deputy-governor, 1690-1700.

(III) Job Greene, of Warwick, born Aug. 24, 1656, married Jan. 22, 1685, Phebe Sayles, a daughter of John and Mary (Williams) Sayles and granddaughter of Roger Williams. Mr. Greene died July 6, 1745, and his wife passed away in 1744.

(IV) Hon. Philip Greene, of Warwick, born March 15, 1705, married Aug. 12, 1731, Elizabeth Weeks, born Feb. 5, 1707, and they died, respectively, April 10, 1791, and Dec. 23, 17—. Judge Greene was one of the well known and highly honored citizens of Warwick. He was judge of the court of Common Pleas of Kent county from 1759 to 1784.

(V) Col. Christopher Greene, of Warwick, born May 12, 1737, in Warwick, R. I., married Jan. 6, 1757, Anne Lippitt, and to them came children as follows: Welthian, born Nov. 19, 1757; Job, Nov. 19, 1759; Phebe, Jan. 16, 1762 (died Sept. 22, 1786); Ann F., June 2, 1764; Elizabeth, Dec. 15, 1766; Jeremiah, Oct. 17, 1769; Daniel W., March 22, 1772 (died April 6, 1773); Christopher, Aug. 27, 1774; and Mary, Sept. 20, 1777.

Young Greene had good educational advantages, and early evinced a fondness for mathematics. He was a member of the Rhode Island Legislature, 1772-74. He was chosen in 1774 a lieutenant of the military company known as the "Kentish Guards," all of whose men who entered the army in the Revolution became officers. In May, 1775, he was appointed by the Legislature a major in the "army of observation," was given command of a company, marched to Cambridge, and was subsequently placed by Washington in command of the 1st Battalion under Benedict Arnold, whom he accompanied on his expedition to Quebec. In the battle at that city which followed he led a detachment of troops and was himself taken prisoner. His long captivity of eight months was so irksome to him that he is said to have formed the resolution that if he obtained his freedom he would never again be taken alive. He was made major in the regiment commanded by Gen. J. M. Varnum in 1776, and in October following was appointed to the command of the regiment. Colonel Greene was then placed in charge of Fort Mercer, on the Delaware. This fort was assaulted in October, 1777, by the Hessians, and for the great gallantry which he displayed in contending with the enemy under Count Donop, who was repulsed with heavy loss, he was complimented by the commander-in-chief. Colonel Greene was detached in 1778 for special service in Rhode Island and was under the command of Gen. John Sullivan in the battle of Rhode Island. For his gallant exploits at Fort Mercer Congress in 1777 passed a resolution "that an elegant sword be provided by the Board of War and presented to Colonel Greene." This sword was not presented until 1786, by the then secretary of war, General Knox, to the son of Colonel Greene. Early in 1781, while in command on the Croton river, Colonel Greene's headquarters were surrounded by a party of Loyalists, by whom the Colonel was killed. A monument was erected to his memory near Red Bank, N. J., in 1829, by Pennsylvania and New Jersey volunteers.

Colonel Greene is represented as a man "stout and strong in person, about five feet, ten inches high, with a broad, sound chest; his aspect manly and demeanor pleasing, enjoying always a high state of health, its bloom irradiating a countenance which significantly expressed the fortitude and mildness invariably displayed throughout his life."

(VI) Col. Job Greene, of Warwick, born Nov. 19, 1759, married Nov. 29, 1785, Abigail Rhodes, of Stonington, Conn., and to them came children as follows: Christopher R., born Sept. 19, 1786; Susanna, May 5, 1788; Mary A., May 25, 1794; and Simon Henry, March 31, 1799. With Col. Job Greene, who was one among the first engaged in the manufacture of cotton goods by water-power, began the industry with which the name has since continued to be identified so prominently. Col. Job Greene was connected with a company for manufacturing cotton in 1794 and transferred to the company land and water-power by a deed bearing date Oct. 3, 1794. This was at Centreville, R. I., on the southwest branch of the Pawtuxet. Colonel Greene died Aug. 23, 1808. His widow, Abigail Greene, died April 18, 1845. Colonel Greene, as the eldest son, was by descent in the right through his father, who was killed in the Revolution prior to the formation, entitled to membership in the Rhode Island Society of the Cincinnati. This right followed to the next generation, falling to Simon Henry Greene, who became a member of the society, was chosen its vice-president, and so continued until his death.

his former partner, Mr. Whiteley, the old firm name of Whiteley & Luther being resumed. In 1891 the firm was dissolved and the stock sold to Joshua Perkins, Mr. Luther retiring from active business to devote his attention to real estate and his own private affairs. He is a stanch Republican, and has been quite prominent in town affairs. He overcame a Democratic majority upon his election as senator from Burrillville, and served as such in 1895 and 1896 and again in 1904 and 1905, finally declining a renomination. He has served three years as president of the town council, as tax assessor for a number of years, and in other minor offices. He has been frequently called upon to settle estates and to serve as guardian or trustee. Mr. Luther is a member of Granite Lodge, No. 26, A. F. & A. M., and has served as treasurer thereof for over twenty years. He is one of the trustees of the Laurel Hill Methodist Church, and has been quite active in the conduct of its affairs. Mrs. Luther also belongs to that denomination.

Andrew Luther was married, Oct. 25, 1854, to Phebe Mowry Smith, born Dec. 30, 1835, in Glocester, daughter of Col. George and Uranah (Steere) Smith, the former of whom came to Glocester from Belchertown, Mass.; he was for a number of years colonel of the local militia in Glocester. Uranah, his wife, was a daughter of Judge Samuel and Phebe (Smith) Steere, the former one of the most prominent citizens of Glocester in his day.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther have had one son, Charles Burnside, who was born Feb. 14, 1862. He received his education in the public schools of Burrillville, and also graduated from the East Greenwich Academy and the Eastman Business College, at Poughkeepsie, N. Y. For a few years after leaving school he was in the employ of his father, gaining valuable practical business experience, but after the latter disposed of his interests Charles B. went to Boston, where for about one year he was engaged in the crockery business. He then entered the employ of the Payne Furniture Company, with whom he remained until organizing the firm of Frothingham, Heffernan & Co., wholesalers and retail dealers in carpets on Washington street, Boston. Though the silent partner in this establishment he is the dominating spirit. He married Nellie E. Presbey, of Rockville, Conn., and they have had two children: Nelson Andrew, who died in infancy; and Gordon Presbey, born May 31, 1903. Charles B. Luther became a member of Granite Lodge, I. O. O. F., at Pascoag.

GREENE (Middletown family). At the old family homestead called "Greenesdale," in the town of Middletown, this State, there still resides a representative of what is here styled, for the purpose of designation, the Middletown Greene family. Greenesdale was purchased in 1836 by the late Nathaniel Ray Greene, a son of the distinguished Maj.-Gen. Nathanael Greene of Revolutionary fame. He was succeeded in its ownership by his son, the late Dr. Nathanael Greene, who was for years a substantial man and prominent citizen of the vicinity of Newport. At the death of Dr. Greene his niece Mary Ward Greene inherited this estate and now resides there. A brief sketch of this man and of his Greene lineage, follows, the order being chronological from the American ancestor.

(I) John Greene, an English surgeon, son of Richard and Mary (Hooker) Greene, grandson of Richard and great-grandson of Robert Greene, was born on his father's estate at Bowridge Hill, in the parish of Gillingham, County of Dorset, England, about 1590. His forefathers had been residents of Bowridge Hill for nearly an hundred years before him, and Robert Greene it seems probable was descended from a younger branch of the powerful and wealthy family of Greenes of Northamptonshire. This surgeon John Greene had early removed to Sarum (Salisbury), the county town of Wiltshire, where, at St. Thomas's Church, Nov. 4, 1619, he was married to Joanne Tattershall, who was the mother of all his children, seven in number, and all of whom were baptized at St. Thomas's Church. Mr. Greene here lived and followed his profession for sixteen years, when, in 1635, with his wife and six children, he sailed in the ship "James" for New England, and arrived in Boston June 3d of that year. He first settled at Salem, where he was associated with Roger Williams and where he purchased or built a house, but soon after Mr. Williams' flight from Salem (1636) he sold it, joined Williams at Providence and secured his home lot No. 15 on the main street. Surgeon Greene was one of the eleven men baptized by Roger Williams, and one of the twelve original members of the first Baptist Church on the continent, organized at Providence, R. I. He was the first professional medical man in Providence Plantations. Mrs. Joanne Greene died soon after the family's removal to Rhode Island and Surgeon Greene married (second) Alice Daniels, a widow, and in 1642-43 they removed to Warwick, R. I. After the death of his wife Alice he married (third) in London, England, about 1644, Phillipa, who returned with him to Warwick, R. I., in 1646. The third Mrs. Greene died March 11, 1687, in Warwick.

Surgeon Greene made the first purchase by the English of land in Warwick, R. I., to whom was deeded the tract of land (700 acres) Oct. 11, 1642, called Occupasuetuxet by the chief sachem of the Narragansetts and the local sachem of Pawtuxet, and upon it was an actual resident in September, 1644, and his family held it for 140 and more years, when it was sold, Oct. 6, 1782, by his great-great-grandchildren. Surgeon Greene was a prominent man in the public affairs of the town and Colony, and enjoyed the confidence and respect of his associates through a long and active political life, holding office almost continuously until the summer before his death, when he declined to accept the office of commissioner. He died and was buried at Conimicut, Warwick, the first week in January, 1659. His children were: John, Peter, Richard, James, Thomas, Jane and Mary.

(II) James Greene, "of Potowomut," baptized June 21, 1626, came to New England with his parents. He married (first) about 1658 Deliverance, born in 1637, daughter of Robert Potter and wife Isabel. (Robert Potter was the ancestor of Bishop Potter of New York and Pennsylvania.) She died in 1664, and he married (second) Aug. 3, 1665, Elizabeth, daughter of John and Susannah Anthony, of Portsmouth, R. I. She died in 1698. James Greene was made a freeman of Warwick and Providence Plantations in 1647, and resided at Old Warwick. He was a member of the General Assembly of the Colony, being commissioner under the first charter and deputy and assistant under the second (1663) for ten years, between 1660 and 1675. He was considered a man of much practical sagacity. On the outbreak of the Indian war, 1675-76, the inhabitants of Warwick left the town and Mr. Greene fled to Portsmouth, and in 1684, having made purchases of Warwick land, he removed to Potowomut, where was an ancient mill, and built his home on the hill near the west bank of the river overlooking the beautiful lake, which furnished the water-power for the forge which his grandsons (sons of Jabez) established for making anchors and other forms of iron work. This became a notable industry in Colonial times and in the early days of the republic. The interests of the forge "were enhanced by the revival after peace existed between England and her emancipated Colonies, and this became the pioneer of the more extensive works on the Pawtuxet river, near the western border of Warwick, known as 'the Forge.'" The place at Potowomut, where James Greene resided until his death, was the birth place of his great-grandson, the highly distinguished Nathanael Greene of the Revolutionary army, and the residence of his descendants for more than two hundred years. He died "at his mansion in Potowomut," April 27, 1698, in the seventy-second year of his age. The issue of the first marriage of James Greene were: James, Mary, Elisha and Sarah; and of the second marriage: Peter, Elizabeth, John, Jabez, David, John and Susanna.

(III) Jabez Greene, "of Potowomut," born Nov. 17, 1673, in Portsmouth, R. I., married (first) March 17, 1697-98, Mary, daughter of Benjamin and Susanna (Gorton) Barton and granddaughter of the Warwick pioneer, Samuel Gorton. She died March 6, 1712-13, and he married (second) May 23, 1716, Grace, daughter of Valentine Whitman, of Providence. Mr. Greene inherited and resided at the Potowomut homestead. He was admitted a freeman of Warwick May 5, 1696. He was a Quaker and a meeting of the Society of Friends is of record as held at his house Dec. 3, 1699. He inherited also the Forge at Potowomut, where his six sons and his grandchildren carried on the successful industry of manufacturing anchors and other iron work as late as 1820. Jabez Greene was grandfather of the distinguished Maj.-Gen. Nathanael Greene. The children of the first marriage were: James, Benjamin, Jabez, Nathanael, John and Rufus; and of the second: Mary.

(IV) Nathanael* Greene, son of Jabez, born Nov. 4, 1707, married (first) Sept. 13, 1733, Phebe Greene, his second cousin. She died May 3, 1737, and he married (second) April 18, 1739, Mary, born April 25, 1708, daughter of Jacob and Rest (Perry) Mott, and granddaughter of Jacob Mott, Sr., both of whom were deputies from the town of Portsmouth, R. I. The family were Quakers, the elder Jacob being one of four who built the first Quaker meeting-house in the town of Dartmouth, Mass. Adam Mott, their ancestor, came from Cambridgeshire, England, in the ship "Defence" in 1635.

Nathanael Greene inherited the homestead of his father and grandfather, on the banks of the river. As well as being engaged in the iron works with his brothers he was a Quaker preacher. He died in October, 1768, and was buried in the old Friends meeting-house lot at East Greenwich. He married as his third wife Mary Gardiner. His children were: Benjamin, Thomas (both born to the first marriage), Jacob, Phebe, Nathanael, William, Elihu, Christopher, and Perry (all born to the second marriage).

(V) MAJ.-GEN. NATHANAEL GREENE, son of Nathanael and Mary (Mott) Greene, was born July 27, 1742, at Potowomut, in the town of Warwick, R. I., and his early education and training were in keeping with the views of his father, that his boys should only receive an elementary training, and each in turn he trained to work at the old forge mill, hence young Nathanael, like his brothers, was engaged in the manufacture of iron, the business being regarded in the light of a family partnership, whose members from a feeling of Quaker humility called themselves "blacksmiths." In 1740 Nathanael's father and the other five sons of Jabez Greene had became owners of the entire mill property. The old forge at Potowomut, near the family homestead, had been most successfully operated, and, in 1741, they built another at Coventry which was equally successful, and in full operation before Nathanael's birth. Its prosperity gave over one hundred families employment, the village being named Greenville. Later Nathanael and his five brothers established the larger forge on the southwest branch of the Pawtuxet river in Coventry, which was also for many years in successful operation.

Notwithstanding his business activity the younger Nathanael Greene found time to acquire a large amount of general information, making a special study of mathematics, history and law. Says Prof. John Fiske, in his American Revolution: "From lowly beginnings he had come to be, though still a young man, the most admired and respected citizen of Rhode Island. He had begun life as a blacksmith, but, inspired by an intense thirst for knowledge, he had soon become a learned blacksmith, well versed in history, philosophy and literature." This phraseology might mislead were it not a fact and known that the American ancestor, John Greene, surgeon, and his son, John, deputy-governor of the Colony of Rhode Island, were men of distinction in Old and New England, and that the books of "The Forge" firm showed large accounts for anchors, cables and heavy iron work, amounting to thousands of pounds, which at that period represented wealth.

In his boyhood and early manhood Nathanael Greene was involuntarily a member of the Society of Friends, his father being a leading preacher. In 1773 he attended a military meeting, and for engaging in the military drills he encountered a remonstrance from the Quaker authorities, and after due consideration he was excluded from their Society. After his removal to Coventry he became active in organizing the first public schools of that place, and was deeply interested in all educational matters. In April, 1770, he was elected deputy to the General Assembly from Coventry, and served almost continuously until he was made a Brigadier-general in the Continental army, and he was not again in Coventry after the war broke out. In 1774 he was influential in forming the military company known as the "Kentish Guards," at East Greenwich. In December of the same year he, with four others, was appointed by the General Assembly to revise the militia laws of the Colony. "This was the commencement," wrote the late Gen. George Sears Greene, "of his military career, from which he rose to a military rank and esteem second to none but the commander-in-chief in a contest with the mother country, renowned for her military prowess." It is not within the province of this work to follow the life of General Greene through the Revolution. This is familiar history. [See sketches of the Life and Correspondence of Nathanael Greene, by William Johnson, 1822; and Life of General Nathanael Greene, by G. W. Greene, 3 Vols.] The General's career has been most worthily portrayed by his talented grandson, the late Hon. George Washington Greene, of East Greenwich, R. I. In one of his able articles, "The United States Army," published in Scribner's Monthly, September, 1901, Gen. Francis Vinton Greene quotes the following from the late Prof. John Fiske: "In every campaign since the beginning of the war, Greene had been Washington's right arm, and for indefatigable industry, for strength and breadth of intelligence, and for unselfish devotion to the public service, he was scarcely inferior to the commander-in-chief."

After the close of the Revolution, General Greene removed his residence from Rhode Island to Georgia, where at "Mulberry Grove," June 19, 1786, he died suddenly when but at the meridian of life. This Georgia estate had been confiscated and was a part of a large body of land given to General Greene by the Legislature of that State. "Mulberry Grove" was one of the finest plantations of those days, situated on the Savannah river some twelve miles from the city of Savannah. General Greene's death was from a congestive chill induced by exposure to the hot sun when unprotected. Maj.-Gen. Anthony Wayne, who was with him when he died, in notifying the authorities of Savannah of the sad event, said: "He was great as a soldier, greater as a citizen, immaculate as a friend. The honors, the greatest honor of war, are due to his memory."

A monument was erected to the memory of General Greene by the people of Georgia in Johnson Square, Savannah, March 21, 1825, the cornerstone being laid by his deeply attached friend, the Marquis de LaFayette. In 1877 an equestrian statue was erected in Sherman Square, east of the capitol, at Washington, D. C.

On July 20, 1774, General Greene was married to Katherine, daughter of John and Phebe (Ray) Littlefield, of New Shoreham, Block Island, R. I., who was born in 1755 and died Sept. 2, 1814. Their children were: George Washington, Martha Washington, Cornelia Lott, Nathaniel Ray and Louisa Catherine.

(VI) NATHANIEL RAY GREENE, son of Maj.-Gen. Nathanael Greene, was born Jan. 29, 1780, at Morristown, N. J., at that time the headquarters of the Continental army, where his father was stationed. After the war, his father removed to the State of Georgia. The latter dying when he was but six years of age, he continued to live on his mother's estate in Georgia, later lived in East Greenwich, R. I., and in still later life removed to "Greenesdale," Middletown, R. I., where he died June 11, 1859.

On Sept. 9, 1808, Mr. Greene married Anna Maria, born Nov. 8, 1783, in Newport, R. I., daughter of Ethan Clarke and his wife Anna (Ward), daughter of Gov. Samuel Ward. Mrs. Greene was a woman of great excellence and strength of character, was highly educated, of great vivacity and courteousness, which was unfailing until within a few weeks of the close of her graceful life, Jan. 17, 1886, at "Greenesdale," Middletown, R. I., at the advanced age of 102 years. When she rounded the century she was strong enough to receive and entertain her friends most charmingly. Her funeral services were held at the Union Congregational Church, Newport, and were attended by many of the representative people of the city and State. She was buried beside her husband in Newport. Their children were: Nathaniel, born June 22, 1809; and George Washington, born April 11, 1811.

(VII) DR. NATHANIEL GREENE, son of Nathaniel Ray Greene, was born at Dungeness, Cumberland Island, Ga., June 22, 1809. He passed much of his boyhood at East Greenwich, R. I., where his parents removed soon after his birth. In 1824 he entered as freshman Amherst College, and the next year entered Brown as Sophomore, but left college before completing his Junior year. He studied medicine with Drs. Peck and Clark, in Oneida county, N. Y., for about one year, and then returned to East Greenwich and completed his medical course under Charles Eldredge of that town. He engaged in farming for some years, his family being large land owners, but in 1848 took up the practice of medicine. Dr. Greene was greatly respected as a man of high character and tone, and worthy of his race and antecedents. He commaned the company of volunteers raised in Portsmouth and Middletown for the service of the State against the Dorr government, and afterward was captain of a company of cavalry, with the rank of colonel. For several years he was president of the Aquidneck Agricultural Society, and was State senator, 1848-1851. On July 4, 1878, he was chosen president of the Rhode Island Society of the Cincinnati, an office he held until the time of his death.

On Dec. 17, 1827, Dr. Greene was married to Mary Jane, daughter of Col. William and Harriet (Gibbs) Moore, of Newport, and soon after removed to Middletown. He died at his home, "Greenesdale," Middletown, July 8, 1899, soon after his ninetieth birthday. His wife died a few years previously. They left no issue.

EAST GREENWICH BRANCH—(VII) PROF. GEORGE WASHINGTON GREENE, son of Nathaniel Ray and brother of Dr. Nathaniel, was born April 8, 1811, in East Greenwich, R. I. He became a man of letters, was honored as the historian of his State, and was the author of historical and biographical works, among them the "Life of General Nathanael Greene," (called by Charles Sumner "a monument more enduring than marble") his distinguished grandfather. He was United States consul at Rome, 1837-45. During his residence in East Greenwich he represented that town in the General Assembly many years and was active in all public work there.

On Feb. 9, 1852, Professor Greene was married to Catherine Van Buren, born Aug. 16, 1831, second daughter of John Addison and Anne Porter, of Catskill, N. Y. Mrs. Greene was a lady of great brilliancy of mind and a most agreeable companion, and was beloved and respected by a large circle of friends. On her paternal side she was a lineal descendant of John Porter, who came to Massachusetts Bay from England in 1637, and who was sixteenth in descent from William de la Grand, a Norman knight who went with the army of the Norman duke, at the time of the Conquest, 1066. He acquired lands near Kenilworth, Warwickshire, England, and his son, Ralph, was made "Grand Portur" to King Henry I., 1120-1140. In the sixth generation from John (1637) was David Porter, D. D., pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Catskill, N. Y., for twenty-eight years. Addison, his eldest son, was the father of John Addison Porter, the father of Mrs. Greene. John Addison was Professor of Chemistry in Harvard, Brown and Yale Universities.

On her maternal side Mrs. Greene was a lineal descendant of the American ancestor, Evert Zugcassen, who came from Amsterdam, Holland, and purchased land, from the Indians, at Kinderhook in 1665. Professor Greene died Feb. 2, 1883, at East Greenwich, R. I., and was buried near his father at Newport, R. I. His children were: Anna Maria, Catherine Porter, Mary Ward, Nathaniel and George Washington.

(VIII) MARY WARD GREENE, the present owner of "Greenesdale," Middletown, was born in Tarrytown, N. Y., March 29, 1860, and was educated in public schools and at the Academy in East Greenwich, where she lived at that time. After her father's death in 1883 she moved to Philadelphia, from which place in 1885 she went to the West, where for several years she was engaged in missionary work among the Indians, being stationed both at Santee, Neb., and Santa Fe, N. Mex. Later under the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, she went to Persia, Asia, where she taught for several years until her health compelled her to return to America. On the event of his wife's death, in 1897, she came to reside with her uncle, Dr. Nathaniel Greene, and when he died she inherited the estate, "Greenesdale," which she superintends as a farm. She has many most interesting relics of her distinguished great-grandfather, General Nathanael Greene—his sword being the most highly valued. She is an ardent woman suffragist.

GEORGE MENDOL CARPENTER, who is now living retired on his excellent farm in the town of Cumberland, was born on the old homestead, on Diamond Hill road, May 10, 1833, a member of the old Carpenter family, one of long standing in Rhode Island and the adjoining New England States.

The pedigree of the American Carpenter family is traced by the genealogist of the family to John Carpenter, 1300, from whom the lineage of William, the emigrant settler in America, is through Richard, John (2), John (3), William, James, John (4), William (2), and William Carpenter (3), a resident of London, who accompanied

(6) Helen Vernon, born Feb. 10, 1864, married, June 17, 1885, James Finley Canfield, and they had two children: John Gladding, born July 21, 1886; and Margaret Caldwell, born Nov. 17, 1891, who died Jan. 20, 1893. For her second husband she married Albert L. Calder 2d, a cotton broker and manufacturer of Providence, Aug. 4, 1903.

(7) Wilhelmina Everett, born Jan. 17, 1868, married, Jan. 31, 1893, William R. Babcock, a wholesale merchant of Providence, who was born May 7, 1854, son of John R. Babcock and Eliza (Alger). They have two children: Mary Floyd, born March 29, 1894; and Wilhelmina Russell, born Aug. 23, 1895.

John A. C. Gladding received his education in his native town, and in early life accompanied his father, who owned and commanded a vessel in the coasting business between Providence, New York and Albany. He participated in the Dorr war, as a volunteer from Bristol, under the command of Col. William R. Taylor, and later joined a company known as the "Sea Fencibles," of Providence, which was largely composed of sailors. At this time he was employed in the Fairbanks Boiler Shop at India Point, Providence. About the year 1845 he commanded a vessel and did a coasting business, like his father before him, between Providence, New York and Albany, as well as other ports along the coast. Captain Gladding continued in the coasting business until 1853, when he moved to Albany, N. Y., where he was employed as head brakeman on the Hudson River railroad. In 1856 he moved back to his native town, where he carried on the teaming business until the breaking out of the Rebellion, in 1861, at which time he held a commission as major in the Bristol Train of Artillery. He was also at that time appointed by the State a recruiting officer for the purpose of enlisting volunteers for the war, the result of which was the enlistment of eighteen recruits, who, together with himself, formed a part of Company K, 4th Regiment, Rhode Island Volunteers, in which Captain Gladding was appointed a sergeant. He was with General Burnside in his expedition to North Carolina and took active part in the battles of Roanoke Island and Fort Macon, and was detailed by General Burnside to accompany, by vessel, to the hospitals in the North a company of sick and wounded soldiers. Although he enlisted for three years, after serving fourteen months he was honorably discharged from the service, Nov. 3, 1862, by surgeon's certificate, on account of disabilities. As soon as his health would permit after leaving the service he engaged in a boating and fishing business until 1865, and for several years he kept and maintained a lightship on Hog Island shoals, in Narragansett Bay, for the Old Colony Steamboat Company, until a lightship was placed there by the United States Government.

In 1870 the Captain opened a restaurant and ice cream saloon in Bristol and did most of the catering for the town, his chowders and clambakes being famous. He was called upon quite frequently by Gen. Burnside, who entertained Gen. U. S. Grant and many other distinguished guests with his clambakes, chowders, etc. About 1880 he engaged in the planting and raising of oysters, his oyster beds being situated in the Kickamuit and Providence rivers, in Rhode Island; from these beds many of the large houses in New York and Boston are supplied with the celebrated "King Philip" oysters. In his later years he continued with his son, Theodore O. Gladding, to carry on the wholesale oyster business.

Captain Gladding held several minor offices in his native town. He was a member and officer of Babbitt Post, No. 15, G. A. R. He was a man of many capabilities, in times of emergency quick to grasp the situation, possessed of very good judgment, very generous, and ever ready and willing to go out of his way at any time of the day or night to do a kind act. He was a most excellent gardener and dear lover of flowers, and at the age of nearly eighty, for a man of his years, enjoyed a remarkable degree of good health until shortly before his death. He marched in line with his regiment in Providence on battle-flag day, Oct. 17, 1903, over the whole route, when the old battle-flags were transferred from the old to the new Statehouse. His loyalty to and interest in G. A. R. affairs many times caused him to go beyond his strength, as was the case at the Grand Encampment of the G. A. R. held in Boston in 1904 when, against the advice of his comrades and friends, he took his place in the line, in which he made his last march. Overcome and exhausted by the fatigue and heat, he was obliged to retire from the ranks and was taken to a drug store near by, where he received the necessary treatment, and for a while he seemed to rally from the exhaustion, but the improvement was temporary only and he gradually failed in health until the 27th of June, 1905, when he passed away, having almost reached the age of four-score years.

She died in 1664, and he married (second) Aug. 3, 1665, Elizabeth, daughter of John and Susannah Anthony, of Portsmouth, R. I. She died in 1698. James Greene was made a freeman of Warwick and Providence Plantations in 1647 and resided at Old Warwick. He was a member of the General Assembly of the Colony, being commissioner under the first charter and deputy and assistant under the second (1663) for ten years between 1660 and 1675. He was considered a man of much practical sagacity. On the outbreak of the Indian war, 1675-76, the inhabitants of Warwick left the town and Mr. Greene fled to Portsmouth, and in 1684, having made purchases of Warwick land, he removed to Potowomut, where was an ancient mill, and built his home on the hill near the west bank of the river, overlooking the beautiful lake which furnished the waterpower for the forge which his grandsons (sons of Jabez) established for making anchors and other forms of iron work. This became a notable industry in Colonial times and in the early days of the republic. The interests of the forge "were enhanced by the revival after peace existed between England and her emancipated Colonies, and this became the pioneer of the more extensive works on the Pawtuxet river, near the Western border of Warwick, known as 'the Forge.'" The place at Potowomut, where James Greene resided until his death, was the birthplace of his great-grandson, the highly distinguished Nathanael Greene of the Revolutionary army, and the residence of his descendants for more than two hundred years. He died "at his mansion in Potowomut," April 27, 1698, in the seventy-second year of his age. The issue of the first marriage of James Greene were: James, Mary, Elisha and Sarah; and of the second marriage: Peter, Elizabeth, John, Jabez, David, John and Susanna.

(III) Jabez Greene, "of Potowomut," born Nov. 17, 1673, in Portsmouth, R. I., married (first) March 17, 1697-98, Mary, daughter of Benjamin and Susanna (Gorton) Barton, and granddaughter of the Warwick pioneer, Samuel Gorton. She died March 6, 1712-13, and he married (second) May 23, 1716, Grace, daughter of Valentine Whitman, of Providence. Mr. Greene inherited and resided at the Potowomut homestead. He was admitted a freeman of Warwick May 5, 1696. He was a Quaker and a meeting of the Society of Friends is of record as held at his house Dec. 3, 1699. He inherited also the forge at Potowomut, where his six sons and his grandchildren carried on the successful industry of manufacturing anchors and other iron work as late as 1820. Jabez Greene was grand- Ch 168
father of the distinguished Major-Gen. Nathanael Greene. The issue of the first marriage were: p 1250
James, Benjamin, Jabez, Nathaniel, John and Rufus; and of the second: Mary.

(IV) Rufus Greene "of E. Greenwich," born June 2, 1712, married at East Greenwich, March 13, 1735, Martha, daughter of Joseph Russell, of Dartmouth, Mass. Mr. Greene was made a freeman in February, 1735. He was interested with his father in iron manufacturing and was engaged also in mercantile business. He resided in East Greenwich. Mrs. Greene died Sept. 30, 1770, and Mr. Greene passed away Dec. 11, 1784. Their issue were: Abraham, Russell, Phebe, Mary, Joseph, Rufus, William, Caleb, Charles, Stephen, Martha, Jonathan, David and Martha.

(V) Sergeant Joseph Greene, born March 20, 1745, was a rope manufacturer. On the breaking out of the Revolution Joseph Greene entered the service and during the war rendered twenty-two months' and twenty-seven days' actual service. He was a member of the Kentish Guards and was a sergeant in Colonel Fry's Rhode Island Regiment. Mr. Greene died March 25, 1825, in his eighty-first year. On Sept. 9, 1770, he married Patience, daughter of Caleb Sheffield, and Mrs. Greene passed away April 20, 1839, in her ninety-third year. Their children were: Barnabas, born Nov. 2, 1771, who married Mary Weeden, a widow; Samuel, born May 23, 1774; Lydia, born Feb. 27, 1776, who married James Sweet; Susan (or Susannah), born July 4, 1778, who died May 17, 1858; Mary, born June 8, 1780; Joseph, born Dec. 19, 1781, who married Mary Floyd; Catherine, born May 28, 1783, who married Augustus Gardiner; Sarah, born Oct. 31, 1785; and Eliza, who married James Miller.

(VI) Joseph Greene (2), born Dec. 19, 1781, was, like his father before him, a rope manufacturer, and owned a rope walk. In 1808 he married Mary Floyd, of Needham, Mass., who was born Feb. 17, 1790, daughter of Philip Floyd, who married Mrs. Deborah Ware; they were of Needham. She died Jan. 7, 1845, in East Greenwich, R. I. Their children were: (1) Lydia French, born Feb. 5, 1812, died Nov. 12, 1893. She was married July 20, 1831, to William F. Dawley, who was born Feb. 5, 1807. They had five children, born as follows: Henry G., Aug. 22, 1833; Mary E., 1839; William E., May 4, 1841; Franklin A., April 29, 1844; and Charles F., September, 1847. (2) William Charles, born Jan. 22, 1815, died Sept. 25, 1877. He married Eliza Gorton, and their children were born as follows: Charles, Jan. 23, 1839; William Edwin, Jan. 19, 1840; Annie More, Dec. 23, 1842; James Albert, Jan. 28, 184--; Benjamin Floyd, Aug. 17, 1845; Sarah E., Oct. 25, 1852; William T., July 25, 1855. (3) Augustus Gardiner, born Oct. 5, 1819, married Elizabeth Bentley Greene, and they had four children, Mary C., Abby H., George and Frederick R. (4) Deborah Floyd, born March 20, 1822, died June 27, 1898. On Nov. 17, 1845, she married Benjamin Lewis Waldron, who was born Oct. 9, 1823, and died May 11, 1860. He was burned to death in James DeWolf's house fire. They had five children, born as follows: Lewis Floyd, April 2, 1847; Elizabeth Barton, May 27, 1849; Lewis Bradford, Sept. 7, 1856; Ella Greene, Dec. 24, 1858; Ida Leonard, Dec. 24, 1858. (5) Sarah Smith, born Sept. 19, 1824, died May 20, 1848. (6) Elizabeth, born Nov. 17, 1829, became the wife of John A. C. Gladding, and is mentioned at length further on. (7) Joseph Edwin, born in 1831, married Celia Y. Hatch, and both died of yellow fever and are buried together at Galveston, Texas. They left two sons.

(VII) Elizabeth Greene, born Nov. 17, 1829, in East Greenwich, R. I., married July 23, 1849, John A. C. Gladding, of Bristol, R. I. She received her education in her native town. At the age of fifteen years, upon the death of her mother, she went to Bristol, R. I., where she made her home with her elder sister, and when nineteen years of age she became the wife of John A. C. Gladding, who at the breaking out of the war of the Rebellion enlisted as a volunteer in Company K, 4th Rhode Island Regiment, to go to the war. Consequently, Mrs. Gladding was left alone with five small helpless children, without any one to help share those responsibilities which to her at the age of thirty-two years was a problem of no trifling moment. Mr. Gladding received for his service in the army the small sum of seventeen dollars per month, and this was the sole dependence for the maintenance of his family, which in those days of extremely high prices was no flattering proposition. However, with the assistance of a kind Providence, she bravely and cheerfully accepted her situation without a murmur. Fully realizing her responsibilities, she was obliged to make the most of her small allowance in caring for her family, which by her constant and untiring labor as well as good management she did most successfully. Although her domestic cares were very great Mr. Gladding, while away to the front, was by no means neglected, as she found time not only to knit his stockings and mittens, but do many other things for his comfort. She possesses a mild and retiring disposition, and her life and character, as also her words of counsel, have ever been a powerful influence for good among her friends and associates. Too much cannot be said in her praise as to her worth, and the good work she has accomplished in her quiet and unassuming way. It may be of some interest to note that Mrs. Gladding has the credit of making the first fireman's red flannel shirt, the kind which in later years has been almost universally adopted by firemen throughout the country for their uniforms. Mrs. Gladding is a member of St. Michael's Church (Episcopal), also a member of Babbitt Post, Woman's Relief Corps, of Bristol, R. I. Though not very strong she is still living at the age of seventy-seven years. Five of her seven children are still living.

WILLIAM H. WOOD, late of Providence, was one of the best-known men in the city, a prominent and successful real-estate dealer. He was born Nov. 13, 1849, in Providence, the son of William and Delia (Bundy) Wood. The parents were natives of England, who came to Rhode Island to reside. When the gold excitement began in California the father left Providence for the New Eldorado, and died there within a few years.

William H. Wood, being thus left fatherless when only a small boy, was obliged to go to work as soon as he was able, in order to assist in the support of the family. His educational advantages were necessarily limited in consequence, but he attended the public schools for some time and eventually, by his own efforts, became a well-educated and well-informed man. From the beginning, when only a boy, he displayed a spirit of resolution in grappling with circumstances that was unusual in one so young and that plainly foretold his ultimate success. WILLIS HENRY GREEN, supervisor of the town of Ellisburg, is a grandson of one of the pioneer settlers of that town, and exemplifies the characteristics of his New England ancestry.

Colonel Henry Green was born January 28, 1785, in the town of Halifax, Windham county, Vermont, and was married November 24, 1808, to Hannah Packer, and brought his bride at once to his future farm in Ellisburg. Her father, James Packer, was born August 17, 1760, in Groton, Connecticut, and her mother, Mary, born in 1763, in Leyden, Massachusetts, was a daughter of Rev. Joseph Green, a Baptist clergyman. She died January 10, 1830, in Ellisburg. (See Packer, in closing paragraphs of this article.)

Colonel Green cleared one hundred and sixty acres of land, and endured many privations and hardships before this was fully accomplished. In the early days he procured flour by carrying a grist on his back to Adams, a distance of seven miles, bringing back the flour in the same way. In the winter months he made shoes and boots, thus adding to his resources so that he was able to remain on his land and improve it. He commanded a regiment in the war of 1812 and participated in the battles of Sandy Creek and Sackets Harbor. On account of the gallantry displayed in this service he was offered a lieutenant's commission in the regular army, but declined on account of the claims of a young family. He was a member of the Baptist church of Belleville, and was frequently called upon to serve the town in official capacity. A good soldier and patriotic and public-spirited citizen, he died universally mourned. His eldest child, Eliza, married Walter Warner, of Belleville, where she died. Mary, the second, born April 22, 1813, died at the age of fourteen years. Henry, born April 28, 1815, lived and died in the town of Adams. Harriet N., born February 18, 1817, died at Ellisburg, being the wife of Chrispin Bull. Mahalah, born January 30, 1823, died when five years old. Daniel Packer is mentioned at length below. Mary E., born November 18, 1827, married Simeon Mathers and died in Ellisburg.

Daniel Packer Green was born January 31, 1825, on his father's farm in Ellisburg, where he grew up. For nine years after his marriage he tilled his father's farm, and then bought the Taggart farm of one hundred and twenty acres, where his widow and son now reside, on which he continued farming until his death, which occurred December 17, 1890. He was a member of the Baptist church, and active in public affairs, being many years a trustee of Belleville Academy, and was sociated in private practice and editorial work with Dr. Daniel Lewis, then Commissioner of Health for the State of New York, and editor of the Medical Review of Reviews. This relation lasted about one year, since which time Dr. Prentice has been alone in practice of general medicine and surgery. He is assistant surgeon to the Vanderbilt Clinic, New York Skin and Cancer Hospital; attending surgeon to the New York Home for Destitute Crippled Children; and instructor in surgery in the Roosevelt Hospital Training School for Nurses. He is a member of the Roosevelt Hospital Alumni Association, the New York County Medical Society, and the Physicians Mutual Aid Association, and is associate editor of the Medical Review of Reviews. He is a member of the Graduates Club, a Mason, and a member of the Twenty-Seventh Assembly District Republican Club.

Dr. Prentice was married June 24, 1897, to Miss Lily La Forge, of Alfred, New York, daughter of Abiel T. and Margaret (Getchel) La Forge. Until his death in 1877, Mr. La Forge was one of the partners in the well known firm of R. H. Macy and Company, of New York. Two children have been born of this marriage: Carlyle La Forge, and Margaret Louise.

GREENE. The Greene family has been notable in the town of Adams from a very early period in its history. It was among the first in Rhode Island, and furnished many soldiers in the struggle for American liberty between 1775 and 1783. For many generations most of its members have been connected with the Seventh-day Baptist church, and have been distinguished for strictly moral and upright lives. They have contributed in no small way to the advancement of their respective communities in every worthy direction.

In 1639, or perhaps shortly before, as appears from an affidavit, Richard Smith, Sr., built a trading post near the present village of Wickford, in North Kingstown, Rhode Island. With him was living one John Greene, concerning whose parentage and previous history nothing is certainly known. A tradition exists among his descendants that he came hither from England, and had formerly borne the name of Clarke instead of Greene. The change of name (if, indeed, it occurred) may have been made for the purpose of gaining permission to leave England for America. Smith had left Gloucestershire, England, for New England, and went from Taunto to Narragansett "for his conscience' sake," says Roger Williams, and it seems Greene may have been of the same faith. In 1663 Greene, in company with Smith, declared himself in favor of being under the jurisdiction of Connecticut rather than that of Rhode Island, but in 1671, May 20, took the oath of allegiance to Rhode Island. January 1, 1672, he and five others bought of the Indians a large tract of land in Narragansett. Other records of his appear. His wife was Joan ———. He had five sons and his descendants now number thousands, mostly Baptists.

(II) Benjamin, probably son of John (1), was of North Kingston, and later of East Greenwood. He was probably born in 1665. In 1687 he married Humility Coggeshall, sixth child of Joshua and Joan (West) Coggeshall, of Newport and Portsmouth, who was born in Portsmouth, in January, 1671. His name appears in the freeman's list of North Kingston in 1696, 1698-1703, as deputy to the General Assembly, and he held other offices. He died in East Greenwich, in the winter of 1718-19, and left twelve children.

(III) John, eldest son of Benjamin, born in 1688, married Mary Aylsworth, about 1708. She was born as early as 1688, oldest daughter of Arthur and Mary (Brown). In 1732 he is styled "Lieutenant" John. He married (second) in West Greenwich, August 24, 1741, Priscilla Bowen, or Burney, of Swansea, who survived him. He died in West Greenwich, March 29, 1752. His children were probably all by his first wife.

(IV) Josiah, fourth child of Lieutenant John Greene, was born about 1715. About 1738 he married Hannah Mowry, who died in Westerly between April 22 and June 24, 1771, leaving ten children. He lived in Charlestown, Connecticut.

(V) Captain John Greene, third child of Josiah and Hannah (Mowry) Greene, was born about 1744, probably in that part of Charlestown, Rhode Island, which is now Hopkinton, where he died in March, 1830, aged eighty-five years. He married (first), about 1766, Abigail, daughter of Ebenezer Moon, of Exeter, Rhode Island; and married (second) in Westerly, March 2, 1775, Prudence, daughter of Joseph Saunders, of Westerly. He probably lived at Exeter for a time. He may have lived at Stonington, Connecticut, for a short time, but made Hopkinton his home before 1781, and spent the remainder of his life there. His wife Prudence died in Hopkinton, March 27, 1831, aged seventy-six years. He served under General Amherst in Canada during the French war, and is said to have been a captain in the Revolutionary army. It is especially remembered that he took part in the battle of Monmouth. He and his wife were members of the Seventh-day Baptist church of Westerly. He had two children by his first wife and nine by his second wife.

(VI) George Saunders Greene, ninth child of Captain John and Prudence (Saunders) Greene, was born in Hopkinton, Rhode Island, September 15, 1788, and died in Scott, Cortland county, New York, September 23, 1875. He married in Truxton, New York, March 8, 1821, Amelia Pendleton Maxson, daughter of Deacon Zaccheus R. Maxson, of Hopkinton; she was born August 15, 1801, and died in Scott, March 12, 1868. Mr. Greene came to Scott in 1824 and spent the remainder of his life there as a merchant. He was a member of the New York legislature in 1838. He had seven children: John, Benjamin, John, Josiah, Captain John, Marion W., and George S.

(VII) Marion W., sixth child of George Saunders and Amelia (Maxson) Greene, was born June 3, 1838, in Scott, New York, and died August 20, 1875, in Adams Centre, Jefferson county, New York. She married in Scott, New York, January 11, 1865, Rev. Asa B. Prentice, then of Utica, Wisconsin, son of Allen and Eliza (Babcock) Prentice, of Dakota, Wisconsin, born July 29, 1838 (see Prentice, VIII). She was a teacher, and before her marriage was a preceptress in Albion (Wisconsin) Academy. She was a woman of excellent character and attainments, and was a devoted helpmeet to her husband. To them were born four children. One of the daughters, Mary Louise, died at the age of twenty-one months; the other, Lucy A., became the wife of Alfred Stillman, of Leonardsville, New York. The sons were Henry W., a dentist, and Alfred C., M. D., both of New York city.

(IV) Joseph, son of Lieutenant John and Mary (Aylsworth) Greene, was born about 1725, probably in East Greenwich, and was married in Westerly, September 20, 1747, to Margaret Greenman. She was a daughter of Edward, Jr., and Sarah (Clarke) Greenman, of Charlestown, Rhode Island, and was born October 17, 1725. He lived in Westerly until after all his children were born. Before 1774 he moved to West Greenwich. As no record of his death is found, it is presumed that he went with his children to Little Hoosick, Rensselaer county, this state, whither they moved in 1779 or 1780. He was a member of the Seventh-day Baptist church. His children were: Charles, Lulu, John, Rhoda, Edward, Perry, Joseph and Olive.

(V) Charles, eldest child of Joseph and Margaret (Greenman) Greene, was born June 19, 1749, in Westerly, Rhode Island, and was married (first) in Greenwich, November 24, 1768, to Waite Bailey. She was born March 9, 1751, in East Greenwich, a daughter of Caleb and Mary (Godfrey) Bailey, and died in 1791, in her fortieth year. Mr. Greene married (second) a widow named Burdick, who died in Brookfield, New York, where Mr. Greene was a farmer. He died at a great age in Pinckney, Lewis county. His children were: Catherine, Josiah, Ethan, Mary, Margaret, Charles, Russell, Caleb, Paul, Waity, Jared and William. Mr. Greene served in Rhode Island, with his brothers, John and Edward, in 1777-8, as a member of the Revolutionary army. After his removal in 1779 to Little Hoosick (now Berlin), New York, he was an officer in Captain Samuel Shaw's Company of the Sixth Albany Regiment (Fourth Rensselaerwyck Battalion) two years. He was commissioned ensign August 11, 1780, and lieutenant August 15, 1781. His first wife was the mother of his children, and five or six of them were born in Rhode Island.

(VI) Charles (2), third son and sixth child of Charles (1) and Waite (Bailey) Greene, was born October 10, 1778, probably in West Greenwich, and died at the home of his son in Adams Center, this county, May 9, 1878, almost a centenarian. With his brothers, he removed to Berlin, New York, in 1779, and from there went to Unadilla, this state. Returning to Berlin, at the end of five years, and again removed, in 1805, to Adams, where he cleared up land and continued farming until old age forbade further activity. He was an active member of the Adams Seventh-Day Baptist church, and an exemplary citizen in every way. He was married (first) in 1796 to Anna Crandall, who died six years later, without issue. He married (second) November 5, 1803, Amy Sheldon, daughter of James and Elizabeth (Moore) Sheldon of Rhode Island. She was born September 2, 1788, in Rensselaer county, and was the mother of the following children: Annie, Thomas, Eliza, Riley W., Lucretia, Celia, Rosannah, Keziah, Maxson S., Monroe A., Leander R. and Cinderella B. Mr. Greene was one of the most charitable of men, and made a home for some twenty children besides his own.

(VII) Cinderella B., youngest child of Charles (2) and Amy (Sheldon) Greene, was born June 14, 1833, and became the wife of Samuel A. Bates of Houndsfield, son of a pioneer settler of the county.

Old Families of Rhode Island Greene

May 8, 1888. For his second wife he married Alida E. Sprague, daughter of the late S. S. Sprague, a sketch of whom appears elsewhere, and to this union have been born two children: Esther Alida, born June 22, 1896; and Martha Sprague, Aug. 21, 1902.

WILLIAM C. GREENE, a successful jewelry manufacturer at Providence, and one of the highly esteemed residents of that city, is a representative of one of the old and honored families of Rhode Island.

(I) John Greene, the ancestor of the noted Greene family of Rhode Island, was born in England in 1596. He was a surgeon by profession, and came from Salisbury, Wiltshire, England, with his wife, Joanna Tattersall, and five children in the ship "James," arriving in Boston June 5, 1635, from there going to Salem, and thence, in 1636, to Providence. He was one of the twelve original purchasers of Shawomet, a tract of land embracing a greater part of the present towns of Warwick and Coventry. In 1644 he went to London to negotiate for Narragansett, and was one of the committee who first organized the Colony of Rhode Island, under the charter obtained from Charles I, in 1647. He was one of the twelve original members of the Baptist Church at Providence, and died in 1658, his wife, Mrs. Joanna (Tattersall) Greene, dying in 1643.

(II) Maj. John Greene, son of Surgeon John, was born at Salisbury, England, and came to New England with his parents, residing at Providence and later at Warwick. He was one of the leading and most influential men of the Colony. He was called upon to hold high offices both in civic and military affairs, being prominent in public life for nearly fifty years, and retiring in 1700 after a term of eleven years as deputy governor. He died Nov. 27, 1708, aged eighty-eight years. About 1648, he was married to Anne, daughter of William Almy, of Portsmouth, and their children were: Deborah, John, William, Peter, Job, Philip, Richard, Anne, Catherine, Audrey and Samuel.

(III) Capt. Peter Greene, son of Major John, was born at Warwick Feb. 4, 1654, and was a prominent man in the community, serving as a deputy from Warwick to the General Court for many years, as captain of the Train Band, and also holding numerous responsible town offices. He inherited by will from his uncle, Peter Greene, the homestead of his grandfather, John Greene, surgeon, in the eastern part of Old Warwick, near Conimicut Point, where he resided, dying about 1723. He married Elizabeth, daughter of Stephen Arnold, of Pawtuxet, and their children were: Peter, Sarah, John, Stephen, William, Elisha and Barlow.

(IV) Elisha Greene, son of Capt. Peter, was born at Old Warwick, Feb. 13, 1692, and died in 1767. His home was near Apponaug, and there he resided all of his life. His wife, Mary Greene, who was a distant relative, died Sept. 27, 1750. Their children were: Mary, Elisha and Elizabeth.

(V) Elisha Greene (2), son of Elisha, was born July 7, 1726, at Warwick, where he conducted a distillery near Apponaug, in addition to farming, and later located in East Greenwich, where he carried on farming. He died there in 1802. He married (first) Isabel, daughter of John Budlong, and his second wife was Sarah Johnson, who survived him. His children, all born to the first marriage, were: Tabitha, Stephen, Mary, William and Elizabeth.

(VI) Stephen Greene, eldest son of Elisha (2), was born in Warwick, Nov. 5, 1752, and died June 20, 1833; he was buried at his home, Greene's Corners, in East Greenwich. He was drafted during the war of the Revolution, but as it was not convenient for him to serve he secured a substitute. He was a man of importance in the community, was a representative, and at one time a judge of the lower courts. Judge Greene married Dec. 1, 1771, Elizabeth, daughter of George Wightman, of North Kingstown, and she died April 1, 1830, in her eightieth year. Their children were: Elisha, George, Mary, Isabel, Valentine, William, Elizabeth and Tabitha.

(VII) William Greene, son of Judge Stephen, was born Nov. 8, 1784, and followed the occupation of farmer during a long and active life, dying March 3, 1854, in East Greenwich. He was a Republican in sentiment, active in his party, and was for a number of years a member of the General Assembly from that town. In the early part of his life, however, he was a Democrat, and when Andrew Jackson first ran for President, the town of East Greenwich gave him eleven votes, William Greene's being one of the eleven. In religion he was a member of the Baptist Church, which he joined in 1820, and he was a man much esteemed for his upright life and Christian character.

Mr. Greene was married June 16, 1811, to Abigail, daughter of John Reynolds, of Warwick, and she survived him many years, dying in East Greenwich March 26, 1889, lacking two months of reaching the age of ninety-five years. She made her home with her son Lauriston H. in East Greenwich, where she died. Mr. and Mrs. William Greene were the parents of a large family of children, several of whom died in infancy, those who reached maturity being: John R., who married Fannie Wightman, was a merchant of Wickford until the middle forties, when he removed to Worcester, Mass., and there engaged as an accountant until his death; Mary R., who married Joseph Fry, died in Providence; Elizabeth Isabella married John Pitcher and died in East Greenwich; William C. is mentioned further on; Thomas T., twin of William C., married Ann Heines, and died at the age of twenty-six years; George F. was a resident of East Greenwich, where he died Aug. 16, 1860, his wife, Melissa Remington, surviving him and marrying again, now living in Westerly; Henry died at the age of fourteen years; Lauriston H. is mentioned further on. He and his brother William C., are the last survivors of the family.

(VIII) William C. Greene, son of William, was born Aug. 19, 1826, in East Greenwich, and his early life was spent after the manner of the farmer boy of the period, working hard on the farm in the summer months, and attending the district school in winter. His schooling was all acquired before his eighteenth year, and besides the district school training he had six weeks' attendance at the Wickford Academy, then presided over by Rev. J. R. Stone. At the age of eighteen years, in February, 1845, young Greene came to Providence to learn the jeweler's trade, apprenticing himself to Allen Brown, a manufacturing jeweler, for three years, receiving each year the sum of $145, out of which he had to pay his board and purchase his clothing. After completing his apprenticeship he worked as a journeyman for one year, and in 1849, in company with Nathan Mathewson, formed a partnership under the firm name of Mathewson & Greene, manufacturing jewelers, in a building on the corner of Westminster and Eddy streets, on the site now occupied by the Boston Store. In 1853 the firm removed to Page street and located in the Richards & Hicks building, and soon thereafter John T. Mauran and ex-Gov. Charles Jackson were admitted to the firm, the style becoming Mathewson, Greene & Mauran. In 1854 Mr. Mathewson withdrew and the firm became Greene, Mauran & Co., continuing as such until 1862, when Mr. Greene sold his interest to Mr. Mauran, becoming the latter's foreman. In 1866 Mr. Greene formed a partnership with Alfred Bliss, on Pine street, and under the name of Greene & Bliss did business in that locality for nearly twenty-eight years. Mr. Bliss died in 1868, and Mr. Greene, purchasing his late partner's interest from the latter's widow, continued as sole owner for a short time, when Charles H. Bliss, a brother, was admitted as a partner, this connection continuing until Mr. Bliss lost his life in the "Metis" disaster, Aug. 30, 1872. In January, 1873, Mr. Greene admitted three partners, the firm becoming William C. Greene & Co., later a corporation under the name of Greene & Knox Manufacturing Company, then William C. Greene & Co., and finally William C. Greene Company, a corporation, of which Mr. Greene is treasurer. The firm is manufacturing a general line of gold jewelry. Mr. Greene is, save one, the oldest active jewelry manufacturer in the city of Providence. He is one of the very few whose length of business experience covers a period of considerably more than half a century. He has won his success fairly, and has earned a competence without trickery, deceit or questionable dealings. He stands high in the esteem of his fellow townsmen.

Mr. Greene is not connected with any club or secret organization. In 1849 he united with the Point Street Baptist Mission, and in 1853 transferred his membership to the First Baptist Church, where he has been an active member, and where for over a score of years he has filled the office of deacon.

On Nov. 4, 1850, William C. Greene was married to Mary Amanda Wightman, daughter of Daniel Wightman, of Providence, and she died Aug. 23, 1895. Mr. Greene was married (second) Feb. 13, 1899, to Miss Sarah Boone, a native of Newport, R. I. In 1875 he erected his residence on the southwest corner of Broad and Stewart streets, Providence, where he has resided ever since.

(VIII) LAURISTON HALL GREENE was born July 19, 1833, on the old homestead, which is now his own property. He applied himself early to study and acquired a good education, being a proficient student. In early manhood he went to Providence, where he learned the trade of manufacturing jewelry with his brother William C., and remained there for ten years, but on the death of his brother George F. he returned home to settle the estate. Mr. Greene bought the interest of the rest of the heirs in the old homestead, where he has resided continuously since the spring of 1861, devoting his attention to its cultivation. The self-sacrificing spirit shown by Mr. Greene, when he gave up a business life to take charge of the old homestead and maintain a congenial home for his widowed mother, evidenced a degree of gratitude and consideration for his parent that revealed the sympathetic nature so often reflected in various ways throughout his life. He has made the most of modern improvements since settling on the farm, being a man of progressive ideas in agriculture, and has made many changes on the place, the well kept condition of which demonstrates his thoroughness and systematic management. Mr. Greene has been a member of the town council, and his townsmen have often tried to persuade him to accept other political honors, which he has invariably declined. In religious opinion he is a Baptist, being a member of the Quidneset Church, where he is an active worker, and he is a liberal contributor to all religious and temperance causes. A man of regular habits, and with a naturally robust constitution, his activity of mind and body, for one of his years, is remarkable.

On Dec. 12, 1855, Mr. Greene was married to Miss Abby Ripley, of Providence, and their wedded life continued for nearly half a century, Mrs. Greene passing away March 2, 1904. They had no children. On Jan. 16, 1907, he married (second) Lydia Parker Brown. Mr. Greene is the last survivor of his branch of an old and honorable family in East Greenwich, where he is well known and highly respected. His life history will show a successful business career, and, moreover, a most honorable one.

arge estate to his brother John and John's children, who, during their ather's absence in Europe at the time of the Revolution, had been left to his care.

(5) John, born in 1728, was a partner with his brother Jonathan, and married Catherine, daughter of Rufus Greene. He built and occupied the house at the corner of Tremont and Beacon streets, where the Albion now stands. In 1774 it became important that a partner of the house should go over to England, and Mr. Amory was selected, and his wife went with him. The war soon after broke out, and Mrs. Amory lost her health, and after a protracted illness died in 1778. He was then regarded as a Refugee, and not permitted to return. His sympathies were, however, all with his countrymen, and the struggle in which they were engaged for their liberties, and he left England and resided on the Continent. Shortly before the peace he returned to America, but landing in New York, then occupied by the British, he was not allowed to join his family in Boston. His name had been placed on the list of proscribed, and preliminary measures were taken to confiscate his property. His brother wrote him, should this be done, he would always share what he had with him. In 1783 he resided at Providence, some of his family being with him, and the next year, through the influence of his friends, and upon his petition to the legislature declaring his allegiance to the new government, he was allowed to return to Boston. He died in 1805, leaving six sons and four daughters. The portraits of himself and his wife, by Copley, are in his family.

Of the children of Thomas Amory, the first settler in Boston, and Rebecca Holmes, Thomas the eldest, and John the youngest, alone have descendants now existing.

The children of Thomas Amory and Eliz. Coffin, were the following:—

1. Rebecca, born 1766, married Dr. Aaron Dexter, a physician and professor of chemistry at Harvard College. He long resided on Milk street, opposite the head of Pearl street. His children were Thomas A. Dexter, Charles P. Dexter, George M. Dexter, John M. Dexter, Mrs. Wm. D. Sohier, Miss Catherine Dexter, and Miss Marian Dexter, d. 1830.

2. Thomas C., born 1767, married in 1795 Hannah Rowe Linzee, daughter of Captain John Linzee, who commanded a British vessel of war in our harbor at the time of the battle of Bunker Hill.

Mr. Amory was engaged extensively in commerce with his cousin, William Payne, and after 1800 with his brother, Jonathan Amory, and was very successful in his enterprises. It is the object of this sketch merely to preserve facts and dates for those who may be interested in them, and any attempt to portray character would be out of place. It may be permitted to say, that he was among those of his day in Boston most beloved and respected, and his death the cause of very general sorrow and mourning. His residence in Boston was at No. 21 Franklin Place, and in summer in Brookline. He died in 1812. Mrs. Amory long survived him, and died Dec. 1846. His children were Col. Thomas C. Amory, Samuel Linzee, who died in 1829, William, Charles, Mrs. Thomas A. Dexter, Mrs. William H. Prescott, Mrs. George M. Dexter, and Mrs. Edward D. Sohier.

3. Elizabeth, born July 26, 1768, married Stephen Deblois. Their children were Stephen Deblois, Thomas A. Deblois, late United States District Attorney for Maine, John A. Deblois, late of Columbus, Georgia, James Deblois of Florida, Edward A. Deblois, and Catherine Codman Deblois, who d young, and two other daughters. Mrs. Deblois d. in 1852.

RUFUS GREENE.—BRANCH.

IX. Rufus Greene, son of Timothy Green, Jr., and Sybil (Hastings) Green; b. in Amherst, Sept. 8, 1790; m. in Amherst, Jan. 17, 1813, Mary Sheldon Boltwood, dau. of William and Eunice (Noble) Boltwood of Amherst; he d. in Carroll, N. Y., Jan. 26, 1868, ae. 77 yrs. She was b. in Amherst, Feb. 20, 1794; d. in Springville, Erie Co., N. Y., Nov. 2, 1878, ae. 84 ys. He res. in Amherst until May, 1817, when he moved to Wilmington, Vt.; thence in June, 1827, he moved to Carroll, Chautauqua Co., N. Y. In 1841 he moved to Hanover in the same county, but returned in 1845 to Carroll where he spent the rest of his life.

"Rufus Greene was by occupation a farmer. While he res. in Vermont he held the office of county sheriff; in New York he was justice of the peace and commissioner of highways. He was an active member of the Universalist Church in Carroll, N. Y., and for many years a Trustee of that Church. While residing in Vermont he joined that church, and was ever after a zealous and consistent Christian. His family joined the same church with him. He had a strong and logical mind, was a close reasoner, and had a command of language sufficient to make himself clearly understood. He was honorable and upright in all his dealings, kind and generous to the weak and needy, and always an influential citizen.

"Of my mother, Mary Sheldon (Boltwood) Greene, I can think of nothing more appropriate than the words in Prov. 31; 25–28. 'Strength and honor are her clothing; and she shall rejoice in time to come.

She openeth her mouth with wisdom; and in her tongue is the law of kindness.

She looketh well to the ways of her household, and eateth not of the bread of idleness.

Her children arise up, and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praiseth her.' "—Rufus Greene, Jr.

"Dear Dr. Greene: Your father's impressions of my grandfather, Rufus Greene, Sr., were true, corroborated by his whole life, and by the judgment and estimate of all who knew him.

To the least discerning he gave the impression of a man of noble character. One is reminded of the reply of Iole when questioned as to how she knew Hercules was a god, 'Because I was content the moment my eyes fell on him. When I beheld Theseus I desired that I might see him offer battle, or at least guide his horses in the chariot race; but Hercules did not wait for a contest. He conquered whether he stood, or walked, or sat, or whatever thing he did.' He was a man of noble presence, dignified, genial and self-possessed. I believe he would have been as self-possessed in the palace of a king as in the cot of the humblest of his subjects. And this not from any egotism, but rather from its absence, from a certain innate something which would place him on an equal footing with kings.

He was offered the candidacy of some of the highest offices in the County, which he always declined on account — as he claimed — of the deficiency of his early training in the schools."
—Mrs. Helen R. Barnsdall.

"DEAR DR. GREENE:

Your great uncle, Rufus Greene, was a man of strong mind and great influence in the communities where he lived. His photo indicates firmness of character. In religion a Universalist, he was ready on all proper occasions to give a reason for 'the faith that was in him.' In politics originally a Democrat, he later, I think, was first a Freesoiler and then a Republican. I have been told that he at one time compelled Reverend, afterward Dr., Zechariah Eddy, whom you knew at Northampton (and a very good man he was too), to apologize for statements he had made in public respecting the Universalist religion.

Yours very truly,

LUCIUS M. BOLTWOOD."

GREEN(E) FAMILIES WHO PIONEERED IN VERMONT

A number of families by name of Green(e) pioneered the settlement of Vermont. Some stayed only a short time and then migrated onward to New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and points farther west. Some were related to the Rhode Island families of Greene; others were not. The authors had hoped to be able to indicate in this appendix the relationships among all these families, but this proved to be an undertaking of considerable magnitude and so the search was not completed.

The 1790 census of Vermont listed 45 families by name of Green(e). It is known that some had arrived earlier and already had migrated westward by the time of the 1790 census; many others arrived in the period 1790-1810. The record is complicated further by the fact that some of these families moved from community to community, not only within Vermont, but also across the border into neighboring towns in New York State (Petersburg, Berlin, Hoosick, etc.) - and even back again.

In this supplement we shall present our data for only those families who pioneered in Vermont for whom the relationship to the immigrant ancestor is known to us. This includes five family lines:

I. Descendants of John Greene of Quidnessett, Rhode Island
II. Descendants of Surgeon John Greene of Warwick, Rhode Island
III. Descendants of Thomas Green of Malden, Massachusetts
IV. Descendants of Robert Green of Wales, Massachusetts
V. Descendants of William Greene of Woburn, Massachusetts

I. Descendants of John Greene of Quidnessett, Rhode Island

JOB GREENE^4 (Henry^3, Benjamin^2, John^1) settled in the vicinity of Clarendon, and is also mentioned as being in the vicinity of Wallingford, Bennington and in Waterford, New York. His sons, JOB^5 and NATHAN^5 pioneered the settlement of St. Albans, Vermont. Their story is told in detail in this genealogy and supplement, and needs no further mention here.

Job's son, Reverend HENRY GREENE^5 of Wallingford is recorded in considerable detail in Frank Greene's book[116] (pages 290-298). We will note here only his children:

ISABELLA^6 m. P. Andrews
MERIBAH^6 m. A. Aldrich
MOSES^6 m. Betsey Barnet

ABIGAIL^6 m. Jonah Sanford

Next to Job Greene^4 on the 1790 census for Clarendon is listed PELEG GREENE^5 (Peleg^4, Peleg^3, Daniel^2, John^1), a distant relative. This family is the subject of Appendix G of this supplement (pp. S177-S184).

Some time after 1790 four brothers, BENJAMIN^5, CALEB^5, JOHN^5 and MATTHEW^5, removed from Stonington, Connecticut to Halifax, Vermont. They were descendants of John Greene of Quidnessett^1, Benjamin^2, Benjamin^3, and Caleb^4, who was their father.

CALEB GREENE^5 died without issue.

The genealogy of these four brothers is given in genealogy of Frank L. Greene, reference^{116}, pages 259-274.

About 1800 RICHARD GREENE^6 (John^5, Josiah^4, John^3, Benjamin^2, John^1) moved to Petersburg, New York and thence to Wallingford, Vermont. He was b. 1769; m. Lydia Latham; five children:

1. RICHARD^7, b. about 1800; d. about 1828; m. Ethlinda Briggs; moved to New York but returned to Wallingford. He had children:

    WILLIAM BRIGGS^8, left an orphan; m. Harriet E. Meeker.
    LAURA B.^{8} died at sixteen of tuberculosis.
    SPENCER^8 (Libby Prison). The authors speculate that this Spencer Green, son of Richard Greene, probably is the man referred to in the history of Danby, Vermont, as published in the Vermont Historical Magazine, from which the following is quoted: "Spencer Green, a lawyer, was a native of Clarendon, and son of Dr. Richard Green, who died in Redford, Michigan, in 1834. When a small boy he went to reside with Tilson Nichols, with whom he spent his minority, and, when about twenty-two went to Poultney, and pursued legal studies with W. H. Smith, Esq., and from there to Wallingford, where he completed his studies, was admitted to the Rutland County bar, and commenced the practice of law. He remained at Rutland until about 1850, when he came here (Danby) .... He was a soldier in the Union army during the rebellion and died from disease contracted while. . ." [516]

3. MARIA^7
4. DANIEL MOON^7, b. 1807; d. 1888; m. Elizabeth Venelia Trowbridge
5. WILLIAM H.

The genealogy of Daniel Moon Greene^7 and his descendants is traced in a new book, The Greenes of the East Branch of the DuPage. [171]

II. Descendants of Surgeon John Greene of Warwick, Rhode Island

THOMAS GREENE^{8} founded a family with descendants still living in Danby, Vermont. This family was descended from John Greene of Warwick as follows:

THOMAS GREENE^{2} of "Stone Castle" was born in England, June 4, 1628. He married Elizabeth Barton. The Stone Castle was the only house to survive the burning of Warwick, Rhode Island during King Philip's War (see page 20).

THOMAS^{3} was born at Warwick, August 14, 1662. He married Anne Greene, daughter of his uncle, Major John Greene. Thomas was drowned during the winter of 1698-9.

JOHN^{4} "of Potowomut" was born at Warwick April 14, 1691. He married 1) Deborah Carr, granddaughter of Governor Caleb Carr, and 2) Almy Greene, his second cousin.

THOMAS^{5} of West Greenwich, Rhode Island, was the eldest son. He was born October 29, 1714. He married Elnathan (Whipple) Rice of Warwick.

THOMAS^{6} was born December 6, 1745; married Mercy (Wanton) Cooke. He was a Quaker preacher. When the war broke out, he would not take up arms and was obliged to flee to Nova Scotia. His property was confiscated. Some of his children were born in Rutland County, Vermont.

JOB^{7} was born in 1768. He lived for a time in Smithfield, Rhode Island. He married Sarah Cooke.

THOMAS^{8} was born about 1790; married Phebe Thompson. He was a Quaker, and a woolen carder by trade. He moved to Danby, Vermont in 1815. Of his eight children the two daughters returned to Rhode Island but his sons settled in Vermont.

Additional information on the generations in Rhode Island is contained in the genealogy of George Sears Greene.[118] Mr. Lynn G. Corey of Danby, supplied me with the following information on the children of Thomas^{8}:

1. ROLAND T.^{9} m. 1) Ruth Haskins of Danby, m. 2) Harriet Smith.
2. EDWARD^{9}, b. April 6, 1816; d. October 2, 1906; m. Louisa Bromley in 1848. They had 13 children.
3. MARY JANE^{9} m. Edward Coffin; went to Rhode Island.
4. JOB^{9} m. Francis Perkins; 8 children.
5. ELIZA^{9} m. Charles Matteson; went to Rhode Island.
6. HARRIS^{9}, 1826; d. 1900; m. 1) Charlotte Goodspeed and m. 2) Delia Loomis.
7. SARAH ANN^{9} m. Obdiah Kelley.
8. ARNOLD^{9}, b. 1829; d. 1869; did not marry.

Another branch of the Warwick Greenes settled in Vermont in Waitsfield, Waterbury, and Worcester. They descended from Surgeon John Greene^1, through James^2, James, Jr. ^{3}, Elisha^4, James^5, Daniel^6, and James ^{7}. JAMES GREENE^7 was born March 20, 1779, probably in Claremont, New Hampshire. January 2, 1802 he married Mercy Nelson. He He removed to Worcester, Vermont, about 1808-9 and from there to Waterbury, where he lived and died. He had four sons and three daughters.

III. Descendants of Thomas Green of Malden, Massachusetts

At least five descendants of Thomas Green of Malden, Massachusetts - all of the sixth generation - migrated to Vermont.

Reverend ASA GREEN^6 (Benjamin^5, Nathaniel^4, William^3, William^2, Thomas Green of Malden^1) was born in Leicester in 1761. He removed to Woodstock, Vermont, and thence to Bridgewater, an adjoining town, where he died in 1842. Children: EPHRAIM, ASA, OLIVER, BENJAMIN, ELIAS, and a daughter.

Dr. ISAAC GREEN^6 (Thomas^5, Thomas^4, Samuel^3, Thomas^2, Thomas^1) was born in Leicester in 1759. He married Ann Barrett in Boston, and removed to Windsor in 1788. Seven children: SAMUEL BARRETT, ELIZABETH SALISBURY, CHARLOTTE ELOISA, GEORGE BARRETT, HARRIET SOPHIA, CHARLES GUSTAVUS, and CAROLINE FRANCES.

ELIAS GREEN^6, brother to Isaac above, was the eldest son of Thomas and Hannah Green of Leicester. He was born there January 25, 1756; married November 1782 Mary Scott of Leicester. In 1796 he removed to Cambridge, Vermont, where he died March 21, 1841. Two children by first wife: TAMISON and SYLVANUS. His second wife was widow Mary (Willoughby) Young, by whom he had five children, all born in Cambridge: ELIAS GREEN, AUGUSTUS HAMILTON, JOEL ALLEN, GEORGE WASHINGTON, and AMHERST WILLOUGHBY.

RUFUS GREEN^6 (Nathaniel^5, Nathaniel^4, William^3, William^2, Thomas^1) was a cousin of Reverend Asa Green. He was born in Leicester, April 10, 1762; married in Charlton December 19, 1786 Kezia Eddy. About 1796 they removed to Calais, Vermont, where they lived many years. Rufus died August 28, 1844 in Madison, New Jersy. Twelve children of whom five were born in Charlton, Mass., and the younger seven in Calais, Vermont: JONATHAN EDDY, ORMSBY, RUFUS, KEZIA, CLARA, DAVID, HENRY PRENTISS, DANIEL, JARED LIVINGSTON, LUCETTA, CALISTA, and ROXELLANA.

To Chittenden in about 1781 came ZEEB GREEN^6 (Israel^5, William^4, William^3, William^2, Thomas^1). He stayed only a few years, removing to Brandon in 1821. He married Sarah Cowee. Nine children: JOEL, SARAH, MARY, REUEL, RHODA, ALMONS, ORANGE, LAURA, and HORACE.

More details on the descendants of Thomas Green of Malden, Massachusetts is given in the genealogy by Samuel S. Greene.[173]

IV. Descendants of Robert Green of Wales, Massachusetts

NATHAN GREEN^2 is mentioned in the 1790 census of Whitingham, Vermont. He and his brother, AMOS^2, were the sons of ROBERT GREEN^1 and Sarah (Rogers) Green, who located in Wales, Massachusetts in 1743. A genealogy of this family was published in 1885 by R. Greene.[172]

Amos was younger than Nathan. He married Mary Nelson and remained in Whitingham about fifteen years. Four children were born there. After the death of his wife, Amos returned to Wales and remarried there.

Nathan was born in Wales, March 28, 1756. He married Sarah Shields on May 10, 1780 and removed to Whitingham, where he became an extensive land-owner. The genealogy of this family for three generations in Vermont is given in Hemenway[516]. He had five sons and six daughters.

1. HANNAH^3 b. 1781; m. Lincoln Hall; moved to Pennsylvania.
2. ALFRED^3, b. 1783; m. Clarissa Smith; 4 sons & 3 daughters.

APPENDIX G

FAMILY AND DESCENDANTS OF PELEG GREENE^3
(Rhode Island - Vermont - New York - Michigan - Wisconsin)

PELEG GREENE^3 (Daniel^2, John of Quidnessett^1) is believed to have been the eldest son and to have been born August 9, 1690, in Kingstown, Rhode Island. December 8, 1715, he married Mary Pierce in Kingstown. As the town records were badly damaged by fire there is some question about them. According to LaMance[131] Peleg and Mary had six children:

1. ELISHA^4
2. LIDYE^4
3. PELEG^4 (more below)
4. MARY^4
5. PHEBE^4 (twin)
6. ANN^4 (twin)

Later, Peleg is believed to have married Dinah _____ and had:

7. HOPE^4, b. May 22, 1725
8. RACHEL^4, b. June 27, 1726
9. ANN^4, b. September 30, 1728.

PELEG^4 was born September 12, 1717/18 in Rhode Island. He married about 1743 Phebe Dyer, daughter of Elisha and Parnell Dyer. They had at at least one child:

PELEG^5 was born July 24, 1747 at North Kingstown, Rhode Island, and died November 12, 1835 at Clarendon, Vermont. He married about 1772 Lucy _____, born 1752 and died Oct. (Dec. ?) 6, 1828 in Clarendon, Vermont. Both are buried in Chippenhook Cemetery, Clarendon. Peleg^5 enlisted and served with Rhode Island troops until the winter of 1779, in Capt. Gibb's Co., Col. Richmond's Regt. Tradition says he was with Washington at Valley Vorge and that he was blinded by concussion for which he received a pension. In the 1790 census, Peleg Green is listed next to Job Green^5 in the Clarendon, Vermont census. (Note that it is at this point that the final "e" was dropped from the Peleg Green branch of the family.)

The will of Peleg^5 is published in a book in the Niagara County, New York Historian's office. It reads:

> "Son Walter is to pay the heirs of my son William three dollars in six months after my decease. To daughter Esther, $50.00; to daughter Susanna $40.00; to children of daughter Polly by her first marriage $60.00; to daughter Phebe $90.00. Walter executor and to have balance of the Estate on condition that he support me for the balance of my life."

Peleg^{5} is known to have had the following children:

1. WILLIAM^{6} (more below)
2. ESTHER^{6}, b. Nov. 22, 1775
3. SUSANNA^{6}
4. POLLY^{6}
5. WALTER^{6}(WORTER) b. July 27, 1781; d. February 25, 1848
6. MARY^{6} b. 1783 in Clarendon
7. PHEBE^{6}, b. 1785 in Clarendon

WILLIAM^{6} (Peleg^{5}, Peleg^{4}, Peleg^{3}, Daniel^{2}, John^{1}) was born June 9, 1772/3 in Rhode Island and died August 19, 1819 in Royalton, Niagara County, New York. He married Syndonia Priest, daughter of Joshua and Syndonia (King) Priest of Clarendon, Vermont. She was born April 1, 1778 at Clarendon and died October 21, 1848.

William bought land in Clarendon, Rutland County, Vermont, June 2, 1795, from Seba French, 147 acres, paying L200. This land adjoined that of Joshua Priest, his father-in-law. March 9, 1801 William Green "of Clarendon" sold most of his land to Joseph Priest for $900. May 12, 1802, William Green "of Kingsbury, Washington County, New York" sold a smaller parcel of land to Joseph Priest for $15. William Green's farm at Clarendon was bounded by lands of Joshua Priest, Peleg Green, Stephen Rounds.

About 1802 William bought land at Sandy Hill (now Hudson Falls), Kingsbury Township, Washington County, New York. In 1814 he is found in Royalton, New York, where he bought a farm on Mountain Ridge. He had planned to build a new house on the highest point of this farm, but he died before it could be accomplished. He and his wife Syndonia are buried there, the Green heirs afterwards dedicating a large plot of land to be known as Mountain Ridge Cemetery.

There were seven children, all born in Kingsbury Township:

1. DANIEL^{7}, b. August 5, 1797 (or August 1, 1798); d. February 1, 1846; buried in Mt. Ridge Cemetery; m. 1) Cyrene ______ b. December 28, 1804 and d. June 29, 1825; m. 2) Abigail Remely; also m) Manora ______ as she signed a deed with him in 1837.
   - i. AZARIAH^{8}, m. Mary ______
   - ii. JOSHUA^{8}
   - iii. ABIGAIL^{8}, m. Lepander Allen
2. RUTH^{7}, b. May 4, 1800; d. September 1, 1850; m. Solomon Richardson who was b. November 26, 1795 and d. December 1, 1853. Both are buried in Mt. Ridge Cemetery. They had grandchildren:

   - (2) RUTH HURD BRANDT^{9}

NOTICES OF THE GREENE FAMILY.

[Communicated by Wendell Phillips, Esq., of Boston.]

John Greene, who came from Salisbury, England, and was an associate with Roger Williams in the Providence Purchase in 1638, was buried at Connimicut farm, R. I. His will is dated 28 Dec., 1658, and proved 7 Jan^y, 1658–9. He left issue, John, Peter, (who married Mary, daughter of Samuel Gorton), James, (from whom General N. Greene of the Revolution was descended, being great-grandson), Thomas, and Mary, who married James Sweet, the progenitor of the bonesetting Sweets.

Thomas Greene, above named, was born 1630-1, died 5 June, 1717, æ. 88. He married, 30 June, 1659, Elizabeth, daughter of Rufus Barton of Warwick, R. I., who died 20 August, 1693. They had issue, Elizabeth, Thomas, Benjamin, Richard, Welthyan, Rufus, and Nathaniel, born 10 April, 1679.

Boston Records say, Nath^L. Green m. Ann Gold, Feb^r. 27, 1703. This Ann Gold, or G*oo*ld, or G*ou*ld, was daughter, I am told, of Thomas and Frances Gould; and the Records say, Tho^s Goold m. Frances Robinson on 10. 7. 1656.

Nath'l and Ann Greene had issue: Thomas, b. 4 June, 1705; Rufus, b. 30 May, 1707; Nathaniel, b. 14 May, 1709; William, b. 3 May, 1711; Benjamin, b. 11 January, 1712-13.

Nath'l Greene's will, dated 6 Aug., 1714, proved 18 Sept., 1714, speaks of wife Ann, and the five children above named; speaks also of land in Warwick, R. I., from his father, Thomas.

Ann's will, 1727, alludes to this, her husband's will, and speaks of the same children.

This last Benjamin married Mary Chandler, and had issue:

Benjamin, b. 16 June, 1738; Hannah, 29 March, 1741; Mary, 3 Nov., 1745; Lucretia, 16 July, 1748; Sarah, 17 Dec., 1750; Gardiner, 23 Sept., 1753; Ann, 28 Feb., 1756.

Benj. Greene, last named, married Elizabeth Hubbard, daughter of Daniel and Martha Hubbard of New London, Conn. This Martha was daughter of ~~Daniel~~ and Mehitable Coit of New London.

Benjamin and Elizabeth Greene's children were one son, Benjamin, late of Boston, deceased in 1822, and daughters, who married Grew, H. Wainwright, H. Chapman, and Chandler, and two unmarried.

Gardiner Greene, whose wealth made him so well known, needs no further mention.

The second book whose title is given above, the Medway Biographies and Genealogies, is a reprint from the first named work with fuller and very satisfactory indexes to that portion of the work. It contains more than one hundred and fifty biographical sketches, and genealogical records of over five hundred families.

The last book, the Military History of Medway, is also reprinted from the larger work. It contains "the names of the inhabitant soldiers in the French and Indian wars; the Continental soldiers and minute-men in the war of the Revolution; a mention of the war of 1812; the doings of the town in support of the war for the Union; a record, with biographical sketches, of the Union soldiers and Portraits of Washington, Lincoln and Grant, with other Illustrations."

Those who are not able to procure the entire work of which a very limited edition was printed, will be glad to obtain separately the parts relating to the family and military history of the town, and even those who have the History itself will find these volumes convenient.

The typographical work seems to be well done, and the History of Medway is an addition to the ever increasing number of excellent and reliable town histories.

Proceedings and Collections of the Wyoming Historical and Geological Society. Vol. II. Part II. Wilkes-Barre, Pa.: Printed for the Society. 1886. 8vo. pp. 164.

An Account of the Various Silver and Copper Medals presented to the North American Indians by the Sovereigns of England, France and Spain from 1600 to 1800. Read before the Wyoming Historical and Geological Society. By Rev. Horace Edwin Hayden, Curator of Numismatics, Wilkes-Barre, Pa. 1886. 8vo. pp. 26.

This part of the proceedings of the Wyoming Historical and Geological Society completes the second volume of that work. The proceedings of the society here printed commence May 9, 1884, and end Feb. 11, 1886. The several reports presented to the society by its officers and the papers read before it are also inserted in the volume. The papers are Rev. Bernard Page, by Sheldon Reynolds, Esq.; various Silver and Copper Medals, by Rev. H. E. Hayden; Carboniferous Fossils found near Wilkes-Barre, by Prof. E. W. Claypole; and Carboniferous Limestone Beds of the Wyoming Valley, by Charles A. Ashburner. The number closes with obituaries of Stewart Pearce, Esq., author of "Annals of Luzerne County" and eight other members of the society, written by the historiographer, George B. Kulp.

The Rev. Mr. Hayden's paper on Indian Medals has been reprinted from the proceedings and the title of the pamphlet is given above. The paper was suggested by the fact that five Indian Medals of George I. of Great Britain are now in the possession of the society and its members. One of these medals belongs to the society, one to the Hon. Steuben Jenkins, two to Mr. Hayden himself, and the other to Master Dennison Stearns. These medals are particularly described and their history is given. Besides the description of these medals a brief but interesting account of the Indian medals of England, and also notices of those of France and Spain, will be found here.

The Record. First Presbyterian Church, Morristown, N. J. Published Monthly. 8vo. 12 pages in each number. Price $1. a year. Single number 10 cts each. Address Mr. James R. Voorhees, or Rev. William Durant, Morristown, N. J.

This periodical was commenced in January, 1880, and was published regularly to the end of 1885, except that its issue was suspended in the year 1882. The work has been noticed twice before this in these pages, namely, in July, 1880, and October, 1881. The Record was commenced by the Rev. Rufus Smith Green, who was then the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Morristown. He removed to Buffalo, N. Y., in October, 1881, but continued the publication of this work to the end of the year, when it was suspended. The Rev. William Durant was settled as his successor in 1882, and in January, 1883, the publication of the Record was resumed under his editorial charge; and it has been continued by him to Dec. 1885, the close of the fifth volume.

The object of this work is to preserve in print the records and other historical material, relating to the First Presbyterian Church of Morristown; and we would recommend the example set by this church to other churches in this country, of all denominations. The work performed by the Rev. Messrs. Green and Durant, in this publication, is summed up in the number for Dec. 1885. They have given: "1st.
